My teacher Victoria Vladimirovna showed our class the film "Return to Rivne" and told us about a wonderful competition. I decided to take part after watching this movie. That film touched in me a lot of feelings. I was imbued with history and saw the embodiment of this history in the form of my work. This work is one dog with two heads. It depicts the Nazis and two sisters who hid in a bunker and could not get out for a long time. I can't imagine how they were there as young children, but I feel like they were very strong with deep characters. I'm very happy to see movies that ended very well and that my teacher met Shelly and they are friends.
