Could we have a transcript of this session? There's a lot of info!

15:41:42 From Sherry Brecheen to Everyone:

These ideas would make a great check list. We could refer back to the list for each program that we plan in the future and add specific efforts that's meaningful.

15:41:48 From Jenn Coffill to Everyone:

(I know it's recorded, but I feel like I won't be able to get it all)

15:42:30 From Sherry Brecheen to Everyone:

Agree Jenn!

15:42:50 From Emily Marshall to Everyone:

We partnered with our local community garden to register for a plot and we had our Kid's Garden Club take care of the plot. Our produce was split between participating families and patrons.

15:43:11 From Donna Throckmorton to Everyone:

So much great information. We will see what we can do to get the information to you in a way that you can review and digest.

15:43:29 From Sherry Brecheen to Everyone:

Thank you Donna!

15:43:45 From Kate Greene Smith - to Jenn Coffill And all panelists:

Hi Jenn! I'm sure Keturah will be happy to share her ideas in a document.

15:44:12 From Jenn Coffill to Everyone:

That would be fantastic

15:44:48 From Cherilyn Danner to Everyone:

Someone brought this idea to me, Invite banks or local institutions! They typically already have to complete education or outreach & would be happy to do so!

15:45:15 From Kate Greene Smith - to Emily Marshall And all panelists:

What a great project! Would you be able to share information about that program on the CSLP Facebook page? Or email it to us to share with other libraries?

15:45:59 From Robin Bajkiewicz to Everyone:

Yes, please.

15:48:03 From Maria Dillon to Everyone:

we host both

15:49:10 From Sherry Brecheen to Everyone:

Several after-hours program, movie night, garden visits, a day at the park.

15:49:29 From Jean Fellows to Everyone:

Yes outdoors, in Parks. Our community doesn't engage with virtual events. We use different hours year round. We have a moderate budget.

15:49:51 From Nikki Glassley to Everyone:

Seed paper is super cool but I struggled to find seed paper that listed all the seeds included and I'm too wary of invasive to use it without knowing.

15:50:03 From Emily Matthys Bennett to Everyone:

We have a few different programs that we take to our local park area.....room is an issue sometimes here. We also have a community garden in our backyard (we plant and invite the community to help weed and harvest).

15:50:12 From Carrie Sturgill to Everyone:

We've gotten away from giving out the plastic drawstring bags

15:50:37 From Meghan Haar to Everyone:

we give away reusable tote bags, we see families using them for years

15:50:45 From Mindy Roberts to Everyone:

If you are looking for reusable products, asking the community for people who may be getting rid of dishwear, cups, or clean reusable bags to reuse.

15:51:10 From Jonathan Greenfeder to Everyone:

seems a bit contradictory to use AI programs considering their colossal power usage and questionable efficacy

15:51:26 From Lauren Antolino to Everyone:

What about the environmental impact of AI?

15:51:26 From Meghan Haar to Everyone:

i was thinking that myself

15:51:37 From Kristen Tabor to Everyone:

Not to mention water usage.

15:51:47 From Wina Mortenson to Everyone:

Thanks for the reminder, Jonathan Greenfeder.

15:52:05 From Kate Greene Smith - to Everyone:

If you have any questions for Haleigh and Keturah, please add them to the Q&A function so we can find them at the end of the presentation!

15:52:14 From Brittanie Hecht to Everyone:

So many places create and generate Totes and Water bottles... Reward patrons who bring these things to programs, to pick up their holds, have a water bottle during programs. I feel We the library don't have to keep making these totes and water bottles and instead reward patrons who are using them already through some of the unique and sustainable ways that have been mentioned.

15:52:35 From Mindy Roberts to Everyone:

Yes, even Canva unfortunately uses AI and you can't opt out.

15:53:45 From Mindy Roberts to Everyone:

We use donated books in good shape for prizes over the summer.

15:54:05 From Christina Stuck to Everyone:

Book dedication! So precious!

15:54:32 From John Goddard to Everyone:

We do local gift cards/certificates for adults in our library. It helps us keep random stuff out of the trash. For sign up prizes, we try to do something people will actually use. Totes, beanies, etc.

15:54:34 From Kate Miller to Everyone:

We do use incentives. We try to use less plastic toys in the past couple years. We do Food coupons for around town, free books, and either a snack/treat or little goody

15:54:47 From Shannon Neal to Everyone:

We do a community craft swap program with many of our leftover supplies!

15:55:05 From Barbara Enslen to Everyone:

Any ideas for incentives for adults?

15:55:12 From Amber to Everyone:

Ooo I love the idea of private storytime!

15:55:25 From Amanda Raiche to Everyone:

If you have questions for Haleigh and Keturah, add them to the Q&A box and we will address as many as possible at the end of the presentation!

15:55:35 From Emily Matthys Bennett to Everyone:

We do incentives but we've had better luck with a drawing for large prizes (PS5, bikes, etc). We're small but it keeps it from being so "throwaway".

15:55:41 From Katie St. Laurent to Everyone:

@barbara classes at local businesses like yoga studios, art centers etc

15:56:05 From Brittanie Hecht to Everyone:

free car wash package for adults and teens

15:56:09 From Emily Matthys Bennett to Everyone:

I also love the partners that give experience tickets or gift cards to go somewhere.

15:56:12 From April Zagonel to Everyone:

We have been using Brag Tags by School Life. We award them to the kids as they meet reading goals throughout the summer. They have been really well received. The kids enjoy earning all 10 of the Brag Tags. Parents appreciate it since it is not just another random, cheap toy.

15:56:16 From Shayne Plunk to Everyone:

@Barbara Enslen: My library has been asking some local places like museums, theater groups, etc. for tickets to give away as prizes. Our adults seem to prefer experiences over physical prizes. :)

15:56:36 From Barbara Enslen to Everyone:

Thank you Katie. I like that. We give away books, but I've been trying to find other incentives.

15:57:00 From Barbara Enslen to Everyone:

Thank you Shayne!

15:57:18 From Jean Fellows to Everyone:

certain members of our staff are strongly opposed to the idea of Library gardens.

15:57:28 From Dawn Fairbanks to Everyone:

This is what my system MCPL - MD) does to make our summer reading challenge green: <https://americanlibrariesmagazine.org/2024/06/03/a-greener-way-to-read/>

15:57:38 From Kate Miller to Everyone:

Brag Tags remind me of the old Pizza Hut book-it.

15:58:56 From Christina Stuck to Everyone:

Yay! Zootopia!

15:59:14 From Jennifer Clary to Everyone:

Last summer we used a merit badge system where kids earned merit badges (button making machine) for doing summer reading events or completing the weekly themed passive programming. Any kid who earned at least four merit badges was invited to come to and of the summer campout in the library. It was a lot of work, but a huge hit!

15:59:33 From Mindy Roberts to Everyone:

We had a local language teacher come in to do a Spanish Storytime once a month for a little while. As well as a 'Mother Language Storytime' where we had a few people read a book in their mother language and did crafts with diverse languages.

16:00:13 From Michael Moren to Everyone:

Stuffed animal sleepover was very popular at our library!

16:00:56 From Gwen Sisto to Everyone:

For this past read across America day I had a program during a Saturday and asked for volunteers from the community to be guest readers. It turned out well and everyone loved the opportunity to be listed as a special guest!

16:01:04 From Lisa Randolph to Everyone:

We have done Seed Library before at Fulton County Public Library System Atlanta GA

16:01:28 From Brian Jarsma to Everyone:

sorry if this repeats, but some good resources for nature based activities that hits sustainability are: Project WILD (and other spinoffs, Project WET, Project Learning Tree, and the Leopold Project.

16:01:41 From Amy Segposyan to Everyone:

Ooh, I love the recipe idea. We did this with staff and put them on bookmarks but I love this idea.

16:02:08 From Charlotte Nemec to Everyone:

the Sequoyah Regional Library in GA has seed libraries in a couple of their locations, they're a big hit. I highly recommend reaching out to your local hardware store to ask for the seeds they are going to throw away, and ask if they will donate them to the library

16:02:13 From Jennifer Johnson to Everyone:

My old library used to do a Halloween costume drive each year. We'd collect donated costumes that kids had outgrown and then put them all out in our meeting room for people to come in and select costumes for free.

16:02:17 From April Zagonel to Everyone:

To show off some of our cookbooks, our library does Crock-tober. Library staff choose a crockpot recipe out of a cookbook from our shelves. We then prepare it and offer samples on Wednesdays in October.

16:03:07 From Lisa Randolph to Everyone:

Different libraries in our system have provided Master Gardening tips and brought in seeds

16:03:17 From Barbara Enslen to Everyone:

We have a seed library and I've thought about adding seedlings/small plants. Maybe this spring.

16:04:05 From Ashley Niven to Everyone:

I tried to save my laminated bits to use for ghost bookmarks for Halloween, but then I couldn't find it. lol

16:04:12 From Katie St. Laurent to Everyone:

I like the stained glass idea! maybe make spinners to keep birds out of a community garden!

16:04:21 From Charlotte Nemec to Everyone:

stained glass laminate is such a good idea

16:05:22 From Deanna Lawson to Everyone:

We don't have a laminating machine here! But, these are vey creative ideas!!

16:05:31 From April Zagonel to Everyone:

Our library does our own processing of materials for our shelves. The contact paper (can't think of the actual name) we use to cover paperback books is good for suncatcher crafts. I save the ends of the rolls that won't fit a book and use them for crafts during programs.

16:05:44 From Sharon Phillips to Everyone:

The upcycled books look awesome!

16:05:46 From Emily Garland to Everyone:

@April - brilliant!

16:06:20 From Mindy Roberts to Everyone:

I've heard of libraries doing a space for trading craft supplies they no longer use.

16:06:29 From Katherine Arnold to Everyone:

Upcycling books is a great and super easy idea! We did some recently for the holidays and it was a hit!

16:06:44 From Katherine Bunker to Everyone:

We've made upcycled hedgehogs out of discarded books and we just made snowflakes out of pages from discarded books to decorate our library for winter.

16:07:14 From Charlotte Nemec to Everyone:

we've used weeded books in paper mache, and that worked really well

16:07:39 From April Zagonel to Everyone:

Discarded books make fun crafts! We have done several book projects just this year. I have a program scheduled for later this month to make a Book Santa.

16:07:59 From Amari Pearson-Watts to Everyone:

Those displays look so cute and creative!

16:08:54 From Jayme Coonce to Everyone:

I have an I Spy bulletin board that I swap out seasonal or holiday items but keep the bulk of the items on all year.

16:09:09 From Donna Throckmorton to Everyone:

If you have questions for Haleigh and Keturah, drop them in the Q&A

16:09:20 From Kate Greene Smith - to Everyone:

If you have any questions for Haleigh and Keturah please drop them in the Q&A function box so we can ask them!

16:09:25 From Kate Greene Smith - to Everyone:

Jinx!

16:09:34 From Jocelyn Levin to Everyone:

Love that idea @Jayme!

16:09:45 From Donna Throckmorton to Kate Miller And all panelists:

Hi Kate - Can you expand your question about trends?

16:10:08 From Sherry Brecheen to Everyone:

WOW! That's a LOT

16:10:12 From Carolyn Ferguson to Everyone:

Thank you for a fun day and information!!
