- Teams that sign a compensation free agent will lose a draft pick (OOTP mimics the MLB rules for this).

Contract Rules

- Players cannot sign more than a one-year extension until they have 4 years of Major League service.

All player contracts, whether free agent or extension, must also abide by the below rules:

- No salary in a contract can be more than double than another year in the contract.
- Only one option (player or team is allowed per contract)
- Opt-outs are allowed at any point in the contract and can be followed with a player or team option as well.
- Team options must have at least a 25% buyout.
- Vesting options are not permitted.
- Bonus total must not exceed 25% of the average annual value (AAV) of the contract.
- No option (team or player) can exceed the highest guaranteed value in the contract.

Any contract that circumvents these rules will be deleted, if it is a free agent, the player will be returned to free agency.

Player Trades

- Trades are allowed any time before the trade deadline.
- The trade deadline will be at the end of July or early August each year, depending on where the Monday falls with the sim schedule in the file.
- Trades must be posted in #completed-trades within Slack and then one of the GMs must also insert the trade within OOTP and make sure they export it for the next sim.

- No Player-to-be-named-later (PTBNL) trades.
- Free agents signed from the previous offseason cannot be traded until June 15th.

Ticket Prices

- Teams may set their ticket prices to whatever they would like.
