

David Ricardo Study Guide

Use this guide if you...

- Have never taken an AP/College Level economics course
- Are not currently enrolled in any AP/College Level economics courses

Where to Start

- Everyone learns differently, and everyone has different amounts of time
- There are a few options as to how you can learn economics
 - On this document there are 2 options: Videos or Khan Academy
 - Choose whatever works best for you
- NOTE: This is only a guide, I encourage you to do your own research if these options don't work for you.
- If you ever have any questions, feel free to contact our captain Katherine Schneider or the team leaders: Alec Corey Amaris Tu Victoria Farmer

1. VIDEOS - less time and effort

- a. Start by watching these videos (which are combinations of my fav econ vids)
 - i. BASIC ECONOMIC CONCEPTS PLAYLIST
 1. After understanding these concepts you can move on to the Mrs. Rush's videos
 - ii. MACRO PLAYLIST (work in progress)
 - iii. MICRO PLAYLIST (work in progress)
- b. And/or watch Mrs. Rush's (former econ teacher at MV) videos
 - i. Rush's Ricardo Notes
 1. Rush was an amazing teacher and most people find her way of teaching easy to understand
 2. They're meant for people who have a basic understanding of economics already (AKA those who have already taken a normal economics class)
 3. Lower quality and quite old but still a phenomenal resource
- c. Other Youtube Videos
 - i. JACOB CLIFFORD
 1. Informative videos

ii. MRU

1. Has TONS of high quality videos
2. Use the “Principles of Economics: Macro/Micro”
 - a. FYI: their courses teach some stuff that we don’t use in econ challenge
3. Their website is a good resource too

iii. CRASH COURSE

1. Not my favorite but everything is nicely condensed
2. You could probably get through all of these in a week - great if you’re in a rush

2. KHAN ACADEMY - more time and effort

- a. Khan Academy is an amazing source to learn from, however it does take more time and effort
- b. In order to get the most out of Khan Academy:
 - i. First do the quizzes to test your knowledge
 - ii. Watch videos on any concepts you got incorrectly/don’t understand
 - iii. Complete the Unit Test
 - iv. Repeat for each unit until entire course is completed
- c. Order of learning:
 - i. Start with AP Macro
 - ii. Then move onto AP Micro
- d. Do a little everyday and it’ll be less overwhelming

More Resources

Name/link	Add. Info
AP Macro Cheat Sheet	Good for review/reference
ReviewEcon	Website made by AP teacher that has practice questions/games and videos

When you’re done

- Once you feel you have a solid understanding of macro and micro, move onto “The Official Econ Study Guide”