

Outreach To Youtube Fitness Trainer
Subject Line: Strong Men Rule The World

Hey Austin,

Your Fitness Journey is incredibly inspiring! I've been following your valuable content on youtube and instagram and I have to say its making a big difference in men's life

I am a Digital Marketing Specialist helping Influencers in the fitness niche gain more clients to their training program and having their current customers love them more resulting in more revenue.

I analyzed other top fitness Influencers like Jeremy Ethier and Brandon Carter and I noticed a few things they do differently in their funnels resulting in their success.

For example not revealing right away what's on the next page after they enter their info keeping them curious and not feeling like they are right away getting sold into something instead leaving them with no option but to make the next step.

Are You Interested in Learning the rest of these secrets? Reply with availability I will make it happen.

Sincerely,
Israel
