

Hey MVP Protein,

I know that your company sells Isolate Protein Powders and the Peanut Butter Chocolate flavor looks tasty,

The Package Design is very simple as well.

I see the way you advertise is mostly for 18 to 40 year old adults based on the protein powder you sell.

In order to unleash the floodgates of customers,

I would use something I call a shocking headline strategy.

This is the same strategy that famous brands use to increase their website clicks and achieve the results they have now,

But I would use the same strategy for FREE.

Based on their results,

If it works for them it will also work for you.

Here's the chance that you can take action TODAY with 0 risks,

While helping more people with your Protein Powders to improve their muscle mass.

What are you waiting for?

Regards,
