How to use this document: A Scope & Sequence should include information about the amount of content you'll cover, and the order in which you'll explore and discuss it. We have provided this template to make it easier to create your own. You can download this template as a Word document (File > Download) and edit as needed. For additional information about what should be covered in your Scope & Sequence, and to see an example, see EA's Scope & Sequence and Delivery Guide resource and Sample Scope & Sequence available on our Resources page.

[School Name] Community of Practice (CoP)

Scope and Sequence, [Term] [Year]

Overview: Purpose and Structure of this CoP

[Describe the learning outcomes for your CoP and how you will meet these learning outcomes. You can also add any information that you would like to share about how the sessions will be structured.]

Scope and Sequence

[Describe the order in which you plan to move through content and the rationale for this sequence. If you're relying on any teaching models or frameworks, identify and describe those here. You should outline pre-work, session information, and follow-up work separately for each session of your CoP.]

Session Pre-work

[Identify and provide links (where applicable) to any readings and activities that CoP members are being asked to complete as pre-work before the session.]

Session Information

[Iterate this section for each CoP session you have.]

Learning outcomes

- [Add the learning outcomes for the session below.]

Activities

Topic	Framing/rationale/activity ideas

Follow-up and prep work for next session

- [Identify and provide links (where applicable) to any readings and activities that CoP members are being asked to complete after the session.]