

THIS IS A SHITTY IDEA AND WE PROBABLY SHOULD NOT DO THIS - Pag

As I'm certain you all know, Nintendo has recently provided more details on the new Super Smash Brothers game. This game does look quite good, and it will probably sell many many copies, however there is one glaring issue that CAN NOT be overlooked. Waluigi is noticeably absent from the character roster. As a dedicated Waluigi fan, I am both saddened, and angry at this, and I'm sure many of you are as well. And we will stand for this no longer. I have devised a relatively simple plan to force Nintendo to comply with our wishes.

Main Steps= Black

Sub Steps= Blue

Sub Sub Steps= red

Sub Sub Sub Steps= green

Phase 1: Preparation.

ATTENTION ATTENTION: FOR PHASE ONE, WE WILL NEED THREE DIVISIONS OF PEOPLE WORKING ON DIFFERENT TASKS. DO NOT MULTI TASK UNLESS YOU TRULY BELIEVE THAT YOU HAVE THE SKILLS. THE INSTRUCTIONS FOR EACH PART OF THE PHASE ARE BELOW IN THIS ORDER: Shiposters, Hackers, and Stalkers.

SHITPOSTERS:

1a: We create TONS of anti-Nintendo memes. It does not matter HOW devoted of a fan you are, because Waluigi is more important. These are important for the next few steps of Phase 1.

1b: Amass a large stash of these memes that can be used for a long period of time.

1c: Once our supplies are large enough, the fun soon begins. We must only wait for our other forces to prepare.

HACKERS:

1a: Ping of Death+Low Orbit Ion Cannon. A ping of death, is a means of making a website more vulnerable to attacks and slowing it down, by pinging the website with a ludicrously large, malformed package. It's relatively easy to do, and there are many tutorials online. This is one of two types of attacks that will be carried out.

1b: Low Orbit Ion Cannon is a wonderful piece of software, designed specifically for Denial of Service attacks on smaller websites. But if we get enough people attacking the same URL, we can kill the damn Nintendo website. Specifically <https://www.nintendo.com>. The DDOS attacks, combined with the death pings, (And one other third thing) we can keep this site held hostage for a considerable period of time.

STALKERS:

(Please note that your job will arguably be the most morally questionable.)

1a: Your job is simple. You will each choose a major influential person who works at Nintendo. Examples: Reggie, Miyamoto, and ESPECIALLY Masahiro Sakurai.

1b: People can double up on the same target if you so choose, but you then will go on a bit of a scavenger hunt. You will retrieve every shred of personal information on your target that you can get. Make sure to try your best to get any dirty stuff that you can. This information will be important in Phase 2.

Phase 2: The Battle Begins

1a. The battle begins. The people with the memes will strike first, shitposting on every social media known to man, making sure to spread as much hatred for Nintendo as possible. (Share the anti-nintendo meme plan with people who like Xbox and Playstation, and don't tell them about the Waluigi part. Nintendo haters will jump on the bandwagon, and we can decimate Nintendo's morale.

1b: Subsequently, email Nintendo, with a healthy mix of, the same memes, and begging Nintendo for Waluigi. Should this plan go through, this needs to be relentless. For this plan to be as effective, the website's servers need to be under heavy load, so when the time comes for the hackers to roll up, it's easier on them.

2a: The Hackers are up next. You will learn how to use the software and methods mentioned earlier, and will now use it. You will specifically attack www.Nintendo.com. If we can bring down their website, they are more likely to take us seriously. Hopefully, we can eventually use the website as a hostage, and a way to bargain for Waluigi's life. You must be absolutely relentless, and constantly send out those attacks. If the website gets back up after we take it down, we're fucked.

(P.S. If anyone is capable of legitimately hacking into the website and changing assets, we implore you do do so.)

3a: Stalkers! This is your time to shine. You will personally contact your target, and recite to them, their deepest and darkest secret. (or whatever dirt you have on them) Naturally, they will be scared.

3b: The Demands. At this point, we are nearing the end of Phase 2. We have killed the website and we know everything about everyone. Here is the plan from here, (assuming that they comply) We contact each of these Nintendo members (from burner emails with a vpn, of course) and straight up show them everything we have on them. Or at least everyone who we dug up some dirt on.

3c: We threaten to leak this information everywhere. It will reach every corner of the internet.

3d: Our demands? See to it personally that Waluigi is added into smash.

7: Hopefully profit. If not I have a backup plan that I will unveil, should the time come, and also we will keep DDOSing the website. We just hold it hostage until our demands are met. If anyone is capable of actually hacking into the website and fucking with it, than please do.

I know that you probably don't feel like doing this, but this is all of our chances to be a part of something big, If this is successful, we can change the course of an entire continent. Don't you want to be a part of that?

When some asks you "Hey, did you hear about The Great Waluigi Raid of 2018?" you can proudly respond with, "Not only have I heard of it," Before pausing for dramatic effect, "I was a part of it."

Make sure to spread the word, and inform everyone about this plan, because (at the moment) it's the best that we have.

TLDR: DDOS Nintendo, Dox their employees, and cyberbully them into submission.
