

Speaking Part 3

What do you think?

Should there be a limit on the amount of time that a president should be in power?

Or should the president be able to stay in power for as long as the people want?

What about your own country?

Is there a limit to how long the leader can stay in power?

Should there be?

Imagine that your best friend was hurting your country.

Would you choose your country, or your friend?

Would you help people to kill your best friend if you thought it would help your country?

What about today?

What is the relationship between the government and the military nowadays?

Who really holds the power?

How does the government keep control of the military?

Can you think of any modern examples where the military leaders refused to obey the government?
