

Hello, I've been dealing with an issue as of late, where approx 14 months ago, NSFW Art was created of Shimo (my OC), and of myself (whom I coined as Vonnie). I've been deeply disturbed by the discovery, and I'm trying my best to navigate it.

I'm gonna document my current evidence, and if this reaches someone who can help me out, that would be amazing

How was it found?

- A friend of mine was trying to look up something for herself, and stumbled upon it, seeing art of her sona as well as mine (will be linked below)

Where was it funded?

- It was on Rule 34

Who uploaded it?

- So far, the only person who has uploaded these goes by the name "ContourLine" on Rule 34, tho I haven't been able to track them down anywhere else

Who are the artists?

- By the looks of things, 3 separate artists were used to create 3 pieces of artwork with Shimo, myself, or both. Koni_Urameshi, CurseDoggo, and some 3rd artist that we don't have much evidence for who they are, but we could have the name of Kaiso

Most of the socials will be listed here, but so far, I haven't had too much luck contacting either person. Koni has a lot of work for other creators that I'm sure were commissioned without permission. I will do anything to have this work taken down and find the culprit who is paying money for this artwork.

Kaiso (not confirmed) - <https://www.furaffinity.net/user/kasoe/>

So far, I've had some contact with Cursedoggo, and I've had little contact with Koni, but so far, I'm playing the waiting game with them both. Please retweet this as much as possible. I don't want this to happen to any other creators and feel violated.

Thank you so much for taking the time to read
