

AMERICA'S NEXT ~~top model~~ MMA fighter

Season Two, Episode Seven

My name is Tyra Banks.

This is my show, my rules and everything that happens here is my decision.

We are getting near the end of this season. I for one am looking forward to a break. I'm getting rather sick and tired of dealing with all these asshats.

I gave the boot to Aly Raisman and Lorena Duran at the conclusion of the last episode. For those of you who are keeping count, we're down to the last six women in this competition.

Thank God there's only six left! I can see the light at the end of the tunnel.

Christie Brinkley is my special guest judge for this episode. For those who remember, Christie was involved in the first season of America's Next Top MMA Fighter. I have reopened her coffin and exhumed for another episode. No offense, Christie.

Thankfully at the end of the episode two more girls will be told to return to the Model House, pack their belongings and get the fuck outta my sight.

MMA Training with Christie Brinkley

I'm back! Thank you for inviting me, Tyra. I really need the money.

I trained some of these women in season one. It's great to see that they remain dedicated to the dream of fighting in a cage for glory!

I wish I could compete, but the only dinosaur the UCC seems content with allowing in the cage is Alexandra Paul.

(Montage of the girls working out and sweating a lot)

Bikini Modeling with Christie Brinkley

In season one Paulina dealt with the modeling. I'm pleased that this time I get to impart my knowledge on these six women.

This episode is all about getting the best out of your swimsuit. Tyra has tasked each model with submitting two photos for judging. That gives them twice the opportunity to impress, but also twice the opportunity to screw up.

Models were given the choice of choosing a swimsuit with either an unusual Cut-Out or with excess Strapping.

If you have a swimsuit that has a unique or different look, you have to own the swimsuit in the photograph. Don't let the swimsuit own you!

Back in my day, we didn't have very unusual swimsuits to choose from. However, I did manage to own these outfits.

Lesson Six: Owning Cut-Outs and Straps

Judging with Tyra Banks

In front of me I have 6 girls. Only 6, I call them the 'Dirty Half Dozen'.

After this episode only four of you will remain. That's right, ladies. Do the math. Two of you are heading out the door and on the first train back to obscurity.

In my hand I have only 4 winning photographs. These are the single best shots you took with Supermodel Christie Brinkley during your 'Owning Cut-Outs and Straps' challenge.

Let's start with the best photographs.

Episode Seven Winner

It's a victory for Anne de Paula. Well done, you're this episode's winner and you are still very much in the running to be America's Next Top MMA Fighter.

All the models were given the opportunity this episode to choose the swimsuit they wished to be photographed in. Anne, you chose perfectly.

The brief was either a cut-out or strappy swimsuit, you managed both. This outfit has a beautiful cut-out in the middle that allows us to see your bellybutton and flat tummy. So sexy!

Then there's the very erotic way this swimsuit fits between your thighs. The crotch covering is so hot it's in danger of adding to global warming. The lines that trace up your body to your breasts are exquisite, and then in your second photo you enhance that by raising your arm up. This is a fantastic pose. The remaining contestants need to take note!

Your swimsuit has a totally unnecessary strap around the waist, but that's the point. So, a point to you.

What is necessary is the bow holding your swimsuit closed and covering your breasts. I could just imagine tugging on the bow and letting everything out. But that is where your brilliance at modeling comes into play, Anne. Your erect nipples.

I don't need to undo that bow, because you're teasing me just enough that I don't want to.

Honestly, this is the step up and level I want going into the last four contestants. Anne, these are amazing photographs and I am so impressed. You make my nipples hard when I look at these photos.

Fantastic work, Anne.

Episode Seven Top Runners Up

Kelsey Merritt

Time to look at the girls who also impressed me this week.

If I call your name, step forward and you'll be safe and secure this week

Hello again, Kelsey Merritt.

Last episode you were a runner up and you've done it again. However, I do think you played it a little safe with your choice of swimsuit.

Would I describe this swimsuit as having cut-outs?
Probably not.

It does have straps, not the thin spaghetti straps one might expect in this challenge. Rather you've gone for thicker, stronger almost bondage style strappings.

I like it and I'll allow it.

Your ability to pose and melt my heart is what's making you a top contender, Kelsey.

The positioning of your arms, the push of your hip, the way your eyes stare down the lens of the camera.

It's poetry.

We are nearing the end of this adventure, Kelsey. There have been times when I believed you were out of your depth, but now I give you a fighter's chance.

Dazzle me next episode.

Kelsey, you're safe from elimination and still in the running to be America's Next Top MMA Fighter.

Kelsey Merritt

Next up and with so many little cut-outs in her swimsuit that I gave up counting them, we have Olivia Brower.

You are a consistent performer, Olivia. Week in and week out you give me strong and sex photographs.

Just look at yourself in these two images. You look fucking amazing, girl!

Be proud of yourself. Be proud of those delicious looking titties.

This first photograph, I don't see your entire body. I don't see the top of your head or your thighs, but what I do see captures my imagination and leaves me begging for more.

That's what it's all about, Olivia. Well done you. Just look at the hand grabbing at your swimsuit. Tasty!

Olivia Brower

In your second photo you pushed it even further.
This is the close up and detailing I wanted to see.

There's enough of your swimsuit here that I can see the cut-outs. That was the brief and, in my opinion, you covered that base.

Your boobs look amazing again. You stole a page from Anne's book and made sure your nipples were at attention. I applaud you.

A couple of things I would have liked would have been some eye contact with the camera and you could've pulled that zip down another inch. I would not have complained.

As it is, I'm going to be looking at these photos in the bathroom.

Olivia, you're safe from elimination and still in the running to be America's Next Top MMA Fighter.

Olivia Brower

Finally, save from elimination this episode is Jasmine Sanders.

Cut-outs and straps galore, Jasmine!

This is the exact design of swimsuit that springs to my mind when I was thinking about this round of America's Next Top MMA Fighter.

You have successfully backed up your win last episode with some very, very solid photographs.

The thrust of your hip in the photo, the casual way your arms are hanging, you exude a sexy confidence that says "look at me, I fucking own this".

I, fucking love it.

As we head into the final rounds of this competition,
you are putting the other girls on notice.

Jasmine Sanders

Here's the proof.

This photograph is next level, Jas. I am speechless when I look at this image of you.

Your body is built for bikini modeling and cage fighting. I shit you not.

Why did Anne win this episode and not you?

Her nipples won this for her.

Jasmine, you are so close to the end goal of this competition. Don't stop pushing yourself.

Jasmine, you're safe from elimination and still in the running to be America's Next Top MMA Fighter.

And now, I'm sad to say, it's time for me to eliminate two more women...

Episode Seven Worst Contestants

Two to eliminate and it's easy to guess who those two are going to be.

Hannah Feguson and Hannah Jetter. The two women who fought in the UMMA, can't make the cut for the UCC. Ladies, I'm sorry. But that's the way the bikini rips.

Hannah F. This was a good choice of cut-out and strappy swimsuit. I like the neutral white color choice. I like how you're posing on your knees. I like the profile of your tits and ass. There is nothing to dislike in these photos, but the competition is so high and at such a level, you just didn't quite cut it.

I think it's time to end your quest to become America's Next Top MMA Fighter. For good.

Then there is the other Hannah..

Hannah Jetter, you chose an excellent cut-out one piece swimsuit. I love that color and I love the fishnet look. Tom Hanks could have used that swimsuit to catch fish in Castaway.

But, just like your Hannah counterpart, these photos just weren't good enough to keep you in the competition.

The umbrella was a mistake. I found it distracting. Bad prop!

Thank you both for competing, but..

..you both must now return to the Model House, pack up your shit and get gone.
