

Subject: T&B Sports, local champions to worldwide heroes.

Hi T&B Sports,

The involvement in local community that your business holds is something I truly love.

I also respect your brand for its one-of-a-kind amazing sports selection and its even more incredible prices.

Your website averages about 12k visits monthly, which, when compared to Dick's 48 million reveals some insane room for growth.

There's some crazy potential...It's time to scale from local to worldwide. With what you have on hand, that won't take long.

I noticed that your social media uploads very rarely. In my opinion, that is one of the large disadvantages. Checkout Dick's, REI, Sportsmans Warehouse, and more. They all upload daily.

Uploading daily can be quite a hassle, though.

So, if you are interested, I can make you some social media posts, free of charge.

I also suggest a pop-up newsletter subscription form at the top of your homepage, they typically bring in a lot more clients than bottom page forms. Again, if you are interested, I can make this for you as well. Free until results!

If you'd like to hear more or have any questions, let me know so we can schedule a time to talk.

Best wishes,

Vlad
