Subject: You're Invited! Learn about a new way to engage [PARTNER] students

Hello [UNIVERSITY RECRUITING CONTACT/HR MANAGER],

[PARTNER INSTITUTION] is excited to announce a new way for you to connect with highly-motivated [PARTNER INSTITUTION] students and recent grads. Micro-Internships are short-term, paid professional projects designed to serve as a bridge to future employment opportunities.

MICRO-INTERNSHIPS

Please join us and representatives from Parker Dewey for 30 minutes on [DAY, DATE, TIME], to hear:

- an overview on how Micro-Internships work,
- examples of the types of projects students can complete, and
- how these short-term projects create equitable access to professional careers in our community.

Whether you're in need of on-demand project support, looking for a win-win to connect with students, or looking for ways to get work done with an ever-growing to-do list, Micro-Internships are a valuable tool. This demo and walkthrough will show how this scalable concept supports your organization as well as our students and recent grads.
