

Wedding

On February 17th my friend had a wedding. We have to get ready for the wedding. I have to give a gift to them. His groom is from Kurdistan and her bride is from Persian. The groom and bride have to wear special clothes. Her bride has to wear a wedding dress and she has to hold a bouquet. His groom has to wear a tuxedo. They have to come into the hall in the row. Everyone has to show respect to the ceremony and they have to sit because this day is a special day for groom and bride. They have different dances because these weddings are two cultures. I wish you good luck.

Great paragraph! Wonderful descriptions.

We don't say "his groom" or "her bride"

His and her are possessive pronouns. We use them when we want to say who owns a thing. So you can say: her bouquet, her wedding dress, his tuxedo, her wedding, his wedding.

Instead, you can just say "the bride" and "the groom"

My son

My son's name is Awa. Awa likes to be a youtuber, he makes videos for babies, his channel's name is baby video with Awa. Our family wants to help him and support him, his father helps him to make his dream come true.

When he makes a video he spends a long time making it. He uses brother's toy when he makes videos. His brother sometimes makes a problem because he wants toys for himself and plays with his brother and he told them their toys are mine.

Good paragraph! I looked at his channel on youtube - What a wonderful and cute son you have! It was so nice to see such a sweet boy. Thank you for sharing.

Paragraph Forth 2-3-23

My city

My city name is Sulaimaniya. Sulaimaniya is the capital culture in Kurdistan. There are less people than in Portland. Those people there are more friendly than people in Portland. Other languages there are fewer than in Portland. Their summer is warmer than in Portland and sometimes gets 120 degrees. There [a house, a rent, gas,] are cheaper than in Portland. Their cars are more expensive than in Portland. Their food is more healthy than Portland because they are fresh.

Good comparison sentences Nakshin! I like to learn more about the cities my students come from!

Paragraph three 1-27-23

Kitchen

The kitchen is very important in every house. There is a specialty and it is different for us. There are many things in there like [stoven, oven, fridge, dish washer, micro, pot, cup, spoon, oil, rice,]. Every woman spends a long time there cooking for her family. I love the kitchen because when I make meals I am a factor to get my family together. I am thankful because I can do that. My kitchen is open between the living room and dining room. There is a nice view when it is snowy, rainy and sunny.

Thank you Nakshin! This is a nice paragraph. For making a long list, you have a couple of options:

- 1) There are many things in a kitchen like a stove, an oven, a fridge, a dishwasher, a microwave, pots, cups, spoons, oil, and rice.
- 2) There are many things in a kitchen (a stove, an oven, a fridge, a dishwasher, a microwave, pots, cups, spoons, oil, and rice).

Paragraph Two 1-20-23

Dolma

Dolma is a Kurdish food. We make some time for picnic, meet,.... .When you make it takes a long time. After it is ready to cook. It needs one hour on the stoven.

There are a lot of types of dolma [cabbage, vine leaf, chard]. For example when you make chard dolma you need [chard, dill, salt, meat, onion, rice, green pepper, tomato, eggplant, zucchini, tomato sauce,] I like it because it is very delicious, and I have a plan for this week to make it.

Women in my country like it so much, but men rarely like it, I don't know why. The social media were joking and told not to anger your wife because after she makes a dolma.

Ha! Funny to hear about the social media joke. I have had dolmas before - for some reason I thought they were Greek food! Thanks for teaching me better. I have never made dolmas - it seems like a lot of work!

Your sentences are very good. You need to put spaces after every period and comma. For example:

Dolma is a Kurdish food. We make some time for picnic, meet,.... .When you make it takes a long time. After it is ready to cook. It needs one hour on the stoven.

There are a lot of types of dolma [cabbage, vine leaf, chard].

Paragraph One 1-13-23

My name is Nakhshin and I am from Kurdistan. I am married and I have two children. I always have advice for them. I tell them to do homework every day after school and brush their teeth every night. I take them outside two times a week. Some time I go to restaurant on the weekend.

I finished university 14 years ago. I worked full time and I was a high school teacher for 8 years but now I am a student at pcc. I always practice English. I want to be successful and I want to find a job in the future.

Thank you Nakhshin, It is so nice to learn more about you. You write very well, and I look forward to reading more of your writings!

The only advice I would give is to make sure you put a space after each punctuation mark (periods, commas, etc.)
