Loyal and Warm-Hearted:

Despite their commanding aura, Leos have incredibly big hearts. They are fiercely loyal to those they love and will go to great lengths to support and protect them. Leos are natural encouragers who believe in the power of others just as much as they believe in themselves. Generosity is second nature to them.

To stay balanced, Leo benefits from creative outlets like music, dance, theater, or painting. Physical activity and sunshine boost their energy, and time spent with supportive friends helps recharge their spirit. Self-care rituals that make them feel special are especially important.
