

Fade

An enthusiastic young Luffox, Fade was born when a kind soul breathed life into a cold block of ice. And as she was nourished and loved, Fade began to take shape.

At first, it was just the tip of her tail. Then, her ears and her legs, the ice melting to allow them to emerge. And, finally, her body started to slowly appear, as many different items were added to the sculpture. The last of the ice chipped away, and, after a small flash of light, an egg sat peacefully where the ice had just been.

She was immediately taken to a warm hatchery, and after just three short days, Fade was born. She grew and grew, and when she finally stepped into adulthood, she was almost instantly welcomed into the family. But her creator missed her cute, playful side. So, after some hard work, she was able to obtain an amulet that would transform Fade back into an energetic hatchling.

And that's when Fade's life truly began.