

ASMR meetup & VRChat instructions

22/12/25 1am CEST

Step 1: Join my discord: <https://discord.gg/ceYfF5WnC2>

Step 2: Connect your platforms to your account in discord settings

Whether you're a youtube member, twitch sub, patreon supporter, you'll be able to see the supporter channel if you connect your relevant account to discord.

Step 3: Join the VRChat group

After you've connected your accounts, you should see both a channel named events-info and one named vrc-group-username. In events-info you'll find the link to the VRChat group.

you need to log in to your vrchat account or create one, send a request to join the group I linked in events-info and then write the username you used to send the request in vrc-group-username for me to accept.

At the time of the event, I will either send individual invites or just make a group instance where everyone can join.

To limit numbers and chaos, I'll start with supporters first and if we're not that many I'll let other people into the instance.

This will be a PC only instance, there's no way I can optimize for quest and mobile users.

Step 4: Join the Event VC voice channel

In that voice channel, no one can talk but my bot, which is what I will use to relay my binaural audio throughout the event so you can hear triggers and stuff while being in VRChat! I will stream the event in the vc for those who cannot or don't want to be present ingame.

Step 5: Avatars, manners, event

In this event we'll go to a comfy world, or switch to a much more optimized one if we need. I'll go around everyone, and do some ASMR and visual triggers for each person, we can hang out.
the event won't be streamed on platforms, but I don't condone NSFW avatars or bad language throughout the event.
Please choose avatars that wouldn't make people uncomfortable.
If your avatar is too laggy, you'll be asked to change to one of the vrchat default ones.
You can talk throughout the event, but if you want to relax you can mute others.

FAQ:

This person is annoying me, with their avatar or voice:

Open your menu, click on that person and you can block the avatar, mute, or block entirely. Please let my assistant Chibiki know of any serious problems.

Laaaag:

The biggest cause is avatars, you could block most of them, and yourself switch to a more optimized one (ranks will be yellow, green, vrc default ones will be optimized)

I'll monitor lag cause I'll try to have most avatars enabled but I might have to block and unblock avatars as I get closer to others.

I don't have vr...

You don't need to, you can play VRChat without vr, just with a pc, actually you'll probably have way better audio in desktop mode than some of us with VR

How long?

The event will last between 1-2 hours, and depending on lag, size, I might take you to a few different cool and cozy worlds.

Too much trouble, I don't want to play that:

That's fine, I'll still stream my POV in the discord voice channel, if you don't wish to participate but are still curious, you can watch the stream. I'll probably try to block out voices in the stream.
