

UNLOCK NEWS & HISTORY!

Please test-drive the following databases of primary resources and let us know your thoughts:

Provide URL for input of feedback

- (1) Access Global NewsBank 2025, (2) BBC Monitoring Summary of World Broadcasts,

These sources act as important foundational records of world history with first-hand, real-time coverage of people, places, and global events. It supports researchers in a wide variety of disciplines, including history, political science, government, economics, social and cultural studies, Media and international studies.

Trial Period: 31 Oct – 30 Nov 2025

1. Access Global NewsBank 2025

Access Global NewsBank | NewsBank Inc. is THE LARGEST collection of the world's news sources.

Imagine having Newspapers (& their Extensive Backfiles) from Around The World in one place and being able to search across these resources!!! A 1-stop shop for newspaper articles from >8,500 sources worldwide, including The Manila Bulletin (from 2020 – present), The Business Mirror (from 2013 to present), Jerusalem Post (1989-present), Sydney Morning Herald (from 1986 to present), The Straits Times – Singapore (from 2000 to present), The Guardian-UK (from 1998 to present), USA Today (from 1987 to present) and many many more.

Trial URL:

<https://infoweb.newsbank.com/apps/news/easy-search?p=AWGLNB>

2. BBC Monitoring Summary of World Broadcasts

BBC Monitoring: Summary of World Broadcasts:

Recognized as one of the most important historical archives ever assembled, from 1939 to 2001. BBC M SWB is one of our two OSINT (Open-Source INTelligence) sources, which acts as an important foundational record of world history with first-hand, real-time coverage of 20th-century people, places, and global events.

Here is an interesting blog about the BBC Monitoring: "Well, while England may not be on its last legs, Germany looks more attractive right now.": Intercepted Radio Messages by BBC Monitoring | Readex

Trial URL:

<https://infoweb.newsbank.com/apps/readex/welcome?p=BBCWBX>