I.6 System of Student Evaluation and Grading – BSESS Program, BPSU Orani Campus

The BSESS Program at BPSU Orani Campus adheres to the university-wide grading system as outlined in the BPSU Student Handbook and institutional academic policies. This system is clearly defined through specific rubrics, criteria-based assessments, and performance indicators aligned with course learning outcomes.

Faculty members utilize both formative and summative assessments, including written examinations, practical demonstrations, fitness evaluations, laboratory outputs, performance tasks, and project-based learning activities tailored to the competencies expected in the field of sports and exercise science.

To ensure the consistency and understanding of grading policies:

- Orientation programs are conducted for both new and continuing faculty to clarify the grading standards.
- Academic administrators, including the Program Chair and College Dean, are actively involved in monitoring grading trends and compliance through periodic meetings and faculty performance evaluations.
- A faculty manual and program-specific guidelines further elaborate grading procedures, academic dishonesty policies, and grade appeals processes.
- The evaluation rubrics and course syllabi are reviewed and approved by the academic council, ensuring dissemination and alignment with institutional and program objectives.

This system fosters transparency, fairness, and accountability in the evaluation process while supporting student growth in sports science knowledge, technical skills, and ethical practice.
