

Update: I will not allow any of my works to be used as NFTs, or for means of being involved in cryptocurrencies. It is not only a matter of personal beliefs, but also a matter of environmental conservation due to the nature of crypto farming, which has been proven to have adverse effects time and time again.

It is heavily advised that one should read this document and the price sheet listed here: <https://docs.google.com/document/d/15l7hhcJgwrZk3V0Z0bcawaJo74lpa6veignZcH85iqQ/edit?usp=sharing> , so that they are familiar with what should be expected for both the commissioner and I, the artist, when one is interested in making a commission for a piece. Refusal to work within the boundaries this form lays out will result in the denial of service. If there are any questions involving said terms and conditions, one can contact me on my discord:

-Disclaimer

There are certain topics in which I will refuse to draw, and as such, I reserve my right to deny a piece with such topics. I will be open for a change of subject if one still wishes to commission me, but I will stand firm with what I will and will not do.

-Payments

I only accept payments through PayPal. Payment will be made after the sketch has been sent and the client approves moving onwards with refinement/line work (as is dependent on what type of commission the client chooses for their piece.) Any changes to the original commission will not bring on an additional charge unless said change would result in the piece being upscaled (for example, going from a headshot piece to a bust piece). In that case, the additional charge will be to make up the difference. It will be possible to go from one type of commission to another that has the same value as the original idea.

All payments are to be made in USD and all prices listed both on the price sheet and the price list are also in USD.

-Refunds

If for any reason, I am not able to complete the commission within a reasonable time frame, one can request a refund. Note that said reasonable time frame is in place when the commissioner does not make note of how long they are willing to wait for a piece. As for what constitutes for “reasonable time frames” is as follows:

~Within the next two weeks of payment.

~Within two weeks of receiving a work in progress picture.

The stage of which the piece is refunded at does affect the amount that is refunded, and that goes as follows:

~Line art: $5

~Colored: $10

With that being said, depending on what is commissioned will depend on whether a refund will be issued at that point (for example: line art commissions cannot be refunded at the line art stage and shaded commissions cannot be refunded at the shading stage).

-Communications

I communicate primarily through discord (makowulff), but I am also available to communicate through either Bluesky (@makowulff.bsky.social) or Telegram (@Makohoosk). Be weary that, especially on Discord, I am very cautious as to who I talk to. With that being the case, it would be greatly appreciated if one would identify themselves by mentioning their interest in a commission. That way, it is easier for me to see whether or not one is interested in discussing commissions. Thank you in advance!

-Work in Progress

Work in progress (WIP) pieces will be shared with the commissioner starting with the rough sketch. When the WIP picture is sent I will wait until a response is received which will result in either making changes to the sketch per the suggestion of the client, or until confirmation is made to go on to the next stage.

-Accreditation

As long as I am given credit for creating the art, you may post the piece on any platform you see fit. Beyond that, the commissioner is allowed to crop the piece for personal usage, though it is with the understanding that one will not resell those cropped copies of the original piece. Even cropping to use as a reaction image is alright in my books! If asked about the artist, accreditation goes to the artist. Here are my profiles so that one can give credit on the corresponding sites:

Furaffinity: Mako Wulff

Twitter: @WulffMako

Bluesky: @makowulff.bsky.social

Instagram: mako_doggo

Reddit: u/Prodrawer120

Any additional site beyond what is listed will need to be asked about when making the pieces public.

Additional Notes

Thank you for looking into commissioning me for whatever piece you have in mind, it is greatly appreciated and I hope to live up to your expectations! With that being said, I'm still a person behind the screen and as of writing this (8/27/2025). I am seeking to keep the friendly nature of how I conduct these, however formal the interaction may be. I have this to help keep myself accountable at the end of the day!
