

The Benefits of Home and Business Security

Security is something that we rely upon every day, regardless of whether it's on our minds or not. We trust barriers like doors and windows to keep our properties secure, but those points of access are also a property's greatest weakness – providing little hinderance to criminals, and failing without the use of force in 55% of 2022's burglaries. [1]

With insurance premiums experiencing some of their largest jumps ever, it's more important now than ever that we protect personal property, sensitive technology, and company supplies before disaster strikes and costs start mounting up.

Thankfully, however, doing so isn't as complicated as one might think. Recent statistics show that properties with even basic security systems are 300% less likely to suffer theft, and that over 85% of prospective burglars flee upon tripping an alarm. [2]

Looking to make an investment in safety and take advantage of that crucial difference? Read on to discover more about the benefits of security systems and the wide range of safety solutions that Smith Security has on offer.

Confidence, Protection, and Affordability

Increased personal and financial safety is the bottom line of installing a security or video surveillance system to your home or business, but the benefits don't stop there. Today's security systems offer lock and glass break detection, beam motion detectors, online access control, and even response procedures in the event of a triggered alarm. [3]

On top of the safety benefits, having a burglar or fire alarm system can reduce both business and home insurance premiums on your property by up to 20%, allowing you to save money and increase your security measures at the same time. [4]

CCTV footage is also invaluable evidence for use in insurance claims, and having it on hand after an accident or break-in is a great step towards successfully recovering losses.

No Longer a Painstaking, Hands-on Process

Gone are the days of crawling about in attics to hook up cables, and gone are the endless VHS tapes and CCTV monitors. Protecting your family or business shouldn't be a chore, and things couldn't get simpler than with Smith Security. We install burglar alarms with added fire and carbon monoxide detection, video surveillance systems, access control systems, and much more – all in a friendly, time-efficient and reliable manner.

Even controlling your security system can be done with ease thanks to the advanced technology at our disposal. Our tools work with app support from digital security forerunner Alarm.com, allowing you to enable, disable, and monitor your alarms and cameras from both afar and within without so much as pressing a button.

Not at home? Not a problem. Professional monitoring services such as those offered by Smith Security provide the ultimate boost in peace of mind, allowing you to combat, respond to, and mitigate emergencies even while away, asleep, or otherwise unable to take action.

Total Security – One Setup Away

There's no time better than the present to secure your property, and no better firm to help you along the process of doing so than Smith Security. Empowered by years of in-depth experience in home and business defense and 24-hour response availability, Smith Security can handle it all – distribution, installation, and even future maintenance.

So what are you waiting for? No matter whether you're a business owner, building manager, or simply concerned for your family, Smith Safety is prepared to ensure that your property and its contents stay safe for years to come.
