

Privacy Policy

This document "Privacy Policy" (hereinafter referred to as the "Policy") represents the rules for using the Clients personal data by the AUTO-LIFE service.

This Privacy Policy is applied to this service. Before browsing this service, be sure to read the text containing the Privacy Policy of the used service. In case of disagree with this Privacy Policy, stop using this service.

By filling out any forms or using this service, you hereby agree to the terms of the Privacy Policy outlined below.

1. General provisions

1.1. In this Policy, the Client is a legal natural person who has joined this Policy in his own interest or acts on behalf and in the interests of a legal entity represented by him, who uses and/or is registered on the AUTO-LIFE service.

1.2. When registering on the service, the Client freely, by his or her own will and interests consents to the processing of his personal data, including an action (operation) or a set of actions (operations) which is performed whether or not by automated means with personal data, including collection, recording, systematization, accumulation, storage, clarification (adaptation or alteration), retrieval, use, transmission (distribution, provision, access), depersonalization, blocking, erasure, destruction of personal data for the purposes set in this Policy.

2. Personal data

2.1. In this Policy, personal data means:

2.1.1. Information provided by the Client himself independently during registration or authorization, as well as during further service use, including the Client's personal data.

2.1.2. Data transmitted automatically due to the Client's software settings, including, but not limited to: IP address, cookie, data about the software used by the Client and equipment for networking, including the Internet, Internet browser parameters and settings, transmitted and received information and materials during the service use.

2.2. AUTO-LIFE is not responsible for the procedure for using the Client's personal data by third parties with whom the Client interacts when using the service.

2.3. The Client realizes and accepts the possibility of placing third-party software on service pages, so such persons may receive the depersonalized data specified in clause 2.1.2.

The specified third-party software may include, among others:

- systems for collecting statistics of visits (for example, bigmir.net counters, Google Analytics, etc.);
- social plugins (blocks) of social networks (for example, Facebook, etc.);
- banner display systems (for example, AdRiver, etc.);
- other depersonalized data collection systems.

The Client has the right to independently limit the collection of such data by third parties using the standard privacy settings that he or she applies to work with the Internet Browser Service.

2.4. AUTO-LIFE has the right to set requirements for the structure of the Client's personal data, that must be provided in order to use the service. If certain data are not marked by AUTO-LIFE as required, their provision or disclosure is provided by the Client at his or her own discretion.

2.5. AUTO-LIFE does not verify the authenticity of the provided personal data, considering that the Client acts conscientiously, prudently and makes all necessary efforts to keep such data up to date.

3. Grounds and purpose of processing personal data

The grounds for processing personal data are:

3.1.1. the Client's consent to processing his personal data;

3.1.2. conclusion and execution of the agreement, where the Client is one of the parties or which was concluded for the benefit of the Client, or for the implementation of measures preceding the conclusion of the contract at the request of the Client;

3.1.3. the necessity for AUTO-LIFE to meet the requirements provided by legislation.

3.2. The purpose of processing personal data are the following:

3.2.1. performing the functions assigned to AUTO-LIFE in accordance with the legislation of Poland and GDPR;

3.2.2. collection, storage and processing of personal data received on the service in accordance with the Law of Poland and GDPR;

3.2.3. to send commercial (marketing) messages to the Clients with additional information about services, current promotions and special offers relating to services that are provided by AUTO-LIFE via the service;

3.2.4. identification of the Client when using the service;

3.2.5. communication with the Client if necessary, including sending offers, informational materials, messages, information and requests, advertising, as well as processing the Client's requests;

3.2.6. improvement of work quality of the service, convenience of its use, development of new functionality and service quality improvement.

4. Requirements for personal data protection

4.1. AUTO-LIFE stores personal data and ensures protection against unauthorized access and distribution according to the internal rules and regulations.

4.2. Confidentiality of the Client's personal data is preserved, except when the technology of provided service or the software settings that are used by the Client, provide open data exchange with any Internet users.

4.3. AUTO-LIFE has the right to transfer personal data to third parties in the following cases:
-the Client has expressed his or her consent to such actions, including cases where the Client uses the settings of the used software, that do not limit the provision of certain data;

- the transfer is necessary as part of the Client's use of the service functionality;
- in case of transferring the service to ownership, use or property of such a third party, including the assignment of rights agreement, concluded with the Client in favour of such a third party;
- at the request of a court or other authorized state body according to the procedure established by law;
- to protect the rights and legal interests of AUTO-LIFE in case of violation of the concluded with the Client agreements.

5. Changing Personal Data

5.1. In order to improve the quality of the service functioning, to ensure the possibility of legal protection, AUTO-LIFE has the right to keep log files about the actions taken by the Client when using the service, as well as due to the Client's conclusion and execution of the Policy and other agreements from his or her side.

5.2. AUTO-LIFE reserves the right to change, add or delete items of this Policy at any time without notifying the Client.

5.3. The Client is personally responsible for checking this Policy for any changes.

5.4. The Client's current use of the service means agreement with the Policy and changes made to the current Policy.

5.5. The Client has the right to:

5.5.1. require the amendment of incorrect, inaccurate or incomplete personal data;

5.5.2. require the deletion of personal data if they are no longer needed or if their processing is illegal;

5.5.3. withdraw his or her consent to the processing of personal data at any time.

6. Cookie files

6.1. We use cookies on our service that can process the Client's personal data.

Cookies are text files that are stored in the Internet browser or by the Internet browser when using the service. The cookie file contains a typical set of characters that allows for unique browser identification when re-applying to the service.

6.2 By using the service, you agree with the placement of cookie files to analyze the use of the service. If you do not want to accept cookies, you must stop using the service.

6.3. We inform that you can disable cookies and other tracking technologies in the Internet browser settings. At the same time, you should understand that if you disable some cookies, the functionality of the service may be limited and you will not be able to use all its advantages, as well as incorrect operation is possible.

7. Who is responsible for the protection of your personal data.

7.1. If you have any questions, comments, complaints or wishes concerning the protection and processing of personal data, you can contact us at the e-mail address avtolifepl@ukr.net.

7.2. Please be sure to specify your full name, email address, and detailed questions, comments, complaints, or requests in all correspondence.