

Libra

(Oct 18 – Nov 16)

Work and finances: Your work is waiting for the best timing to bloom. Not as progressive as it should be. You have to be calm and patient for your investment that will grow. At this time, your expenditure remains constant, but your income isn't enough. It doesn't balance, so you should focus on saving money. For the direction of investment, the best period is between July and September. Be careful about spending. It seems that you and your spouse will face a financial problem. You may renovate a house, enhance a landscape, buy a new car or house, as well as fix your vehicle.

Health: Be cautious of eating and infections, especially those having weather and food allergies as well as digestive diseases. You should pay attention to food hygiene.

Relationships: Your love life is good. There's no problem for single people. But married couples should be careful about their finances. This year, you shouldn't co-invest in a new business because income or profit may not be as much as you expect.

Luck: Your fortune isn't good, so you should be careful.

Children and companions: There's good news for children and companions this year. Your children's education will be progressive. They may have some health problems, but not severe. They should take good care of themselves.
