Android application privacy policy

The following information applies to the Records Calendar.

Data collection
Records Calendar does not collect any personal information such as email addresses, your name, address, phone numbers, etc.
The location is used to calculate the times of sunrise and sunset only.

Records Calendar allows you to use all your functions for free without displaying ads. In the future, the availability of new features in the free version, the developer chooses itself.

Deleting data
If you would like to delete Records Calendar, you can make this by standard tools of the OS Android. All your data for the entire time the application is used, will be deleted automatically. Removing an application does not affect any data on your device.

Required permissions
Records Calendar requests following permissions on your device:
ACCESS_COARSE_LOCATION and ACCESS_COARSE_LOCATION – this permission is required to calculate the times of sunrise and sunset. Call from the application. Records Calendar by himself cannot make any changes. You're safe.
WRITE_EXTERNAL_STORAGE – is required to save the backup data file.
READ_EXTERNAL_STORAGE – is required to recover from a file with a data backup.
INTERNET – is required to recover or save the backup from a cloud storage.