BUSD Students,

First off, I just wanted to say that I hope you are all doing well! Mrs. Henson and I just wanted to remind you of a couple of important items. Please continue to communicate with your teachers either through email, Google Classroom, etc. They are assigning work to be completed. If you are not receiving work, let them know. Please don't wait until it is too late. The work that is being assigned is important and does count! If you are receiving paper copies, they can be turned into the drop boxes located at the entrances of the elementary and high school or picked up on the lunch routes on Mondays and Wednesdays. If you are having difficulties communicating with your teachers or receiving your assignments, contact the school and we will help bridge that gap in communication. Remember, just because the building is shut down, that doesn't mean that your teachers and administrators have shut down. We continue to work every day to help educate you and to help you succeed through this difficult time! We miss having you in school and we hope to see you all as soon as possible.

Yours in Education,

Garrett Wingo
