Shed a natural glow with stylish pendant rattan light of Rowabi

As an interior designer and artisan who handcrafts lamp fixtures from natural rattan, I'm excited to shine a light on one of the biggest lighting trends for 2023 – pendant rattan light. With their visible woven textures and organic shapes, rattan pendants inject a contemporary yet cozy aesthetic into any space.

Visible weaving and natural textures are having a major moment as people aim to incorporate biophilic design into their homes, bringing the calming qualities of nature indoors. The intricate woven patterns and fibrous textures of rattan provide natural visual interest and warmth. When illuminated, variations in rattan textures create striking interplays of light and shadow.

At my custom studio Rowabi, our artisans meticulously weave each rattan light shade by hand before fitting them to customized hardware. Our newest pendant is the Aura – a 16-inch orb defined by chunky braided rattan poles wrapped horizontally around the frame. Paired with matte black accents, the Aura's visible handiwork makes a statement above dining tables, kitchen islands, seating areas and more.
