Made You Something Right

Hi Rooshy,

I just visited your AAVRANI website and noticed an opportunity to help you with writing copy for your new hair care products launching on March 12th, to ensure you sell them all out quickly and efficiently.

Helping you create copy for your new product will excite more people about the launch and immediately instil trust in the new product, making people feel comfortable buying and bringing in more satisfied customers.

In that case, I've written an email about your new product that you can send out to excite all your customers and ensure sales.

Would you like me to send it over?

All the best,

Muhammed
