

Session 1: Law Enforcement and the Community

Presenters:

Lieutenant Michael Carroll has been employed with the Alameda County Sheriff Office for the past twenty years. He currently serves as the watch commander for the Youth and Family Services Bureau. Lieutenant Michael Carroll spent the majority of his law enforcement career in the Law Enforcement Services Division where he worked the earlier part of his career as a patrol deputy. As a sergeant with the Alameda County Sheriff's Office-Street Crimes/Robbery Unit, he grew a passion for working with victims and improving the public's safety and awareness surrounding criminal activity. Lieutenant Carroll created the Santa Rita Jail Youth Education Program and is the current president for the California Robbery Investigators Association. He is a graduate of the University of California at Berkeley and is currently pursuing a Masters in Leadership at St. Mary's College.

Lieutenant Bobby Hookfin has been employed with the Oakland Police Department for past 21 years. He currently serves as the Special Resources Commander for the downtown area and West Oakland. During his career, he has worked numerous assignments to include Internal Affairs, the Patrol Division, Youth and Family Services Division, and the SWAT Team as a Hostage Negotiator.

Some of his accomplishments would include receiving a Medal of Merit from the Oakland Police Department and a Meritorious Negotiator Award from the Chief Special Agents' Association of Northern California, for his success in negotiating peaceful protests in the City of Oakland. He is currently a lead instructor for Procedural Justice court seat the Oakland Police Department.
