

Lal Bahadur Shastri College of Arts, Science and Commerce, Satara

Department of Microbiology

Certificate Course in Industrial Quality Control Microbiology

Course Outcomes

At the end of the course, the learner should be able to:

1. Understand, describe and integrate the basic theoretical and practical aspects of Pathology, Microbiology and Clinical Biochemistry.
2. Understand and demonstrate all essential characteristics of a good lab technician and should apply all universal precautions of medical lab technology.
3. Utilize basic lab devices (both manual and automated) for the various qualitative and quantitative investigations.
4. Understand, describe and apply all essential protocols of Lab management and quality control.
5. Use the knowledge to work in related organization.
- 6 . Acquire skills to handle laboratory equipment and instruments

