Creating your own YouTube podcasts with Riverside

The best podcasts on YouTube all have one thing in common — they are high-quality. If you want to create your own video podcasts, Riverside makes the whole process simple. Capture 4K video and 48kHz audio resolution, invite guests to join you remotely, and customize your content when you're done. Let's take a look at some of the key features:

- High-quality recordings: Record in up to 4K video and 48kHz audio resolution
- AI-transcriptions: Transcripts available in 100+ languages so you can repurpose your content effortlessly
- AI Captions: Add your own video captions and style them as you like
- Text-based editing: Trimming your video is as easy as deleting text in your recording transcript
- Clip creator: Instantly create YouTube Shorts with Magic Clips which turns the best parts of your video into shareable short videos.
- Audio enhancement: Background noise removal and level normalization to create crystal clear audio
- Built-in teleprompter: Follow a script easily while recording
- Separate tracks: Record separate audio and video tracks for each participant to make editing easier
- AI show notes: Automatic show notes, summaries, chapters and descriptions to make it easy to optimize your podcast for search results

Step 1: Plan your podcast & invite remote guests

Before you get started, you should plan out your video podcast. You will be able to use the teleprompter feature on Riverside to copy and paste any notes you may have. If you plan to have guests join you remotely, speak to them and line up the session.

Step 2: Create a Riverside account & a new recording studio

Next up, it's time to login to Riverside. Open it in your browser or in the app and use your unique login. (If you don't have a Riverside account, creating one takes a few minutes!)

Go to your homepage and then select “+New Studio”. You can then name your studio and select the recording type as “Audio & Video”.

Step 3: Enter your virtual studio

When you've done the above, you can enter the virtual studio. If you are having guests join you, you can share a link with them via an email invite or a shareable link.

Step 4: Record your podcast

Once everyone is in the virtual studio, it's time to get started. You can use the teleprompter feature to copy and paste any plans or script you have. When you are ready, click the “record” button at the bottom of the page.

Step 5: Edit your video

Now that you're done, you can edit your video podcast. Use the podcast editing tool to complete your video. As we have covered, you can use the text-based editor, create YouTube Shorts using the Magic Clips tool, and add captions using AI transcriptions.

When you've done all of the above, you can customize your video. The editor allows you to add your own logo, change the background, and switch up the dimensions. Next, you can download your high-quality video file, ready for publication on YouTube.
