

What is Startup Touch and how can it help your startup

On 29-30 October, Startup Touch conference will host online startups from CEE and CIS region, as well as investors, accelerators, business angels and corporate companies that are looking for new digital solutions.

Networking

Surely, you missed that part of the conferences where you could accidentally run into a potential lead or find a good advisor. With a long list of functions, the event platform used by Startup Touch will allow participating founders to have both curated and random networking for 2 days. And all the profiles of the attendees will be still there, in the event app, even after the conference is over so that you could have a follow-up.

Training

This event is much focused on education - to prepare for speaking to investors, or pitching, or even attending other virtual conferences.

You will have the mentorship sessions with top industry professionals and investors, a prep course before the conference and a series of workshops about the most important things for running the business - on 30 October.

Pitching

For idea- and very early-stage startups, there will be a Crash Test to present the projects to the audience and hear fair feedback.

For seed and later-stage companies - a chance to get to the Pitch Night and present to the panel of investors from Europe, Israel and the Americas.

The conference is mainly looking for AI, Robotics, Agritech, Future cars, Cloud tech, Enterprise solutions, and Cleantech projects. Other breakthrough ideas with global potential are also welcome.

How to apply

Application form: touch.ge/startup

Deadline - 1 October (but the earlier you apply, the higher chances you get to be recommended to some accelerators or investors if your project qualifies).
