POST #5

EW_teacher_image.jpeg

Join master teachers from around the world as you immerse yourself in transformative ceremony, embodiment practice, and healing therapies.

Mycologist Paul Stamets invites you to his home for a fireside chat to discuss the innate wisdom of psilocybin mushrooms and the mycelial network.

13 Indigenous Grandmothers visionary and medicine keeper, Jyoti Ma, introduces you to the fundamentals of building a personal altar to ground your journeys and deepen your spiritual connection.

James Fadiman -- creator of the iconic Psychedelic Weekends at Esalen in the sixties and micro-dosing expert -- introduces methods for starting your own practice or enhancing your existing one.

Fifth-Generation Ceremonial Leader, Xochitl Ashe takes you on a "simulated journey" using breath work, visualization and embodiment techniques to access higher states of consciousness.

Dr. Robin Carhart-Harris, neuroscientist and Director of the Psychedelics Division at University of California San Francisco, shares ground-breaking discoveries from his soon-to-be-published research on the therapeutic benefits of psilocybin mushrooms for depression and mental health.

Creativity expert and psychedelic advocate, Laura Dawn explores techniques for using psilocybin to access your inner genius and fulfill your greatest potential.
