

Walking on Water

John 6:19

Night was coming. Jesus was tired. It had been a very busy day. Jesus wanted to be alone for a while. He wanted to pray. While he went up into the hills, his friends got into their boat. They started rowing to the other side of the lake. The wind was blowing against them. It pushed their boat back. Jesus saw that they were having a hard time rowing. So he came to them walking on the water! When they saw him, they were scared. They did not know it was Jesus.

Jesus knew they were scared. "Do not be afraid," he said, "It is I". Peter wanted to make sure this was true. "If it really is you," he said, "tell me to come to you on the water." Jesus said, "Come to me".

Peter got out of the boat. Step, step, step he took. He began to walk on the water too! But then he felt the strong wind. He looked at the waves. He began to sink. "Jesus, save me!" he cried. Right away, Jesus pulled Peter up. "Why did you get scared?" Jesus asked. Then they climbed into the boat. The wind stopped blowing. Everyone worshipped Jesus. "You really are God's Son," they said.
