

Submission form – introduction

t the meetings, you'll be invited to share details about your work as part of a guided conversation, in four rounds. Each round can be seen to correspond to the physical, etheric, astral and "I" realms.

Content – The basic mission of what you do. This is a brief overview, e.g. "I provide eurythmy therapy to private clients referred to me by various anthroposophic doctors." Or "we are a clinic with 5 staff members providing anthroposophic GP services and art therapy." Think of this as a so-called "elevator pitch" (or, how you'd describe your work to someone you met on the bus, if you only had a minute before your stop arrived!)

Expression – This looks at how your work manifests in its everyday activity; what is the setting, and how has it unfolded or developed over time? E.g. "when I started 5 years ago, initially I saw 3-5 massage clients per week, now with a colleague we can see 8 - 20 people per week"; "We work in a socially disadvantage area with high unemployment"; "Our clinic has 850 people on its books"

Relation – What are the uplifting elements, and what are the challenges in your work? How do you see it unfolding in the future, what might be helpful, and what have you heard in this community conversation that speaks to you?

Call – This is the culmination of the four-fold process. Here we'll look at the financial expression of the elements we've heard described. Taking up the question of "what have you heard that speaks to you?", and "where am I in this?", we turn to the perceived economic needs, and with particular reference to the question of where financial support would be most helpful. The AMT will clarify the amount of funds to be made available. The task of the Talander Community will be to recommend to the trustees how the money is apportioned, in the context of the expressed needs of the individual projects. The final decision resides exclusively with the trustees.
