Fukashigi no Carte

I cannot speak, I cannot sleep. I'm trapped
here dreaming

The real me, who you can seem to see
Is just a record lost, no one can read
I wonder if maybe you are the key

Stories told, and reality Both of them still reveal a truth unseen, how can it be?
Once again, I'm here all alone Though I still only ask for one thing, all I want is to feel I'm loved

Keeping it vague, farewell, good day, though I feel a bit faint
I must move on, and look for a brand new dawn
I'm just a record lost, no one can read Anxiety, swells up inside of me

The pure feelings that this world omits Feel so real, yet the truth can sting a bit, but I can't quit
Every night, my wish stays the same What's the use in doubting everything I do, I just want to melt in your arms

Meaninglessly, just existing, I'm not comprehending
Why is it I feel, saddened to leave you be
This is a record lost, no one can read Unpleasantly, circling me again

Dreams of righteous memories? Yet the voice is bittersweet?
Enchantingly? Or suspiciously? Is this Jealousy?
Hey, tell me?

I cannot speak, I cannot sleep. I'm trapped
here dreaming
The real me, who you can seem to see
Is just a record lost, no one can read
I wonder if maybe you are the key

I see the end just up ahead out of this daydream
The boundary that we can seem to see
Of just a record lost, no one can read The adolescence that will remain a part of me
I wonder if maybe you are the key

Eat Me

So go on and touch me
Hold me. Kiss me. Eat me.
Let our tales parallel for just a bit
If we can become one, right now, even if the page flips
And I am no longer there I'll be content I swear.

You're the one that's in control you are the one that holds the key
I am melting into you but slowly I am losing
me
In this room I lie awake, a bit afraid but I could never be free,
As the red stains me I become nobody

Just one bite and I ignite my body's glowing red so bright
At two bites I can not fight this growing pain
I feel inside
Those are simple feelings I've come to know cause I was born into this world to live my whole life on repeat, so I gave up long ago

So please you can touch me
Hold me. Kiss me. Eat me...
Let our warmth align for just tonight
If we can become one, right now,
Then there'd be no reason,
My next page is obsolete, I'll relinquish my dream.

Is it a sin to feel good, no one had ever told me so
But if it is then I beg that for now you won't let me go
If the stories almost over then please, I don't want this to end, just repeat it again until my page starts to break

I beg of you touch me. Hold me.
Kiss me. Eat me...
Our lips are intertwined for this moment
Even if I'm fated to crumble away in this small box
Then my dying wish is to be eaten up by you

Take mo' Chance

As I look back a bit
All my days up to this point were boring I admit
But for some reason, I think today will be the day I put an end to it

Feeling like, I'll be left behind Fading into black in between real life and fantasy
Even if I'm not that cool
Or I feel like a fool
I can't sit here and hide all my life

I wanna take my chance Gonna keep on moving
There's no reason to be so inclined to change Gonna feel the light
Let the sunshine groove you
We were born into this world to be ourselves so just be you

Gonna keep on, gonna keep on C'mon and try to smile and stand tall the sky is shining for you all
