

Terms of service.

These terms were created because of previous experiences. This is not because of something you have done personally, but to protect my art, myself, and my artwork.

Please be sure to read as you will have to agree to the terms before I send the artwork over.

Summary.

- Do not ask me questions about my personal life. Do not ask to see my face or clothing.
- Do not smut roleplay with your partner if I am in the chat or suggest that (me, you, or them) will pleasure themselves to the drawing.
- Do not disrespect me, my art, my friends, or others.
- In the beginning of the process please send ALL references, ideas, ect before I start.
- I will no longer be accepting commissions if you do not have a reference or colored artwork of your character. (This does not apply to custom ocs)
- If I finish the process and you want things to change (that was not my wrong doing) it will cost a fee to fix. Reasoning listed below
- I will no longer be accepting (normal) commissions (customs are okay) where I only go off description.
- Refunds can be provided if I have not started, or haven't finished the sketch. If the artwork has been sketched you may have a half refund. If the artwork is finished or near finished you are not eligible for a refund. Payment Plans are non-refundable.
- You do not have my permission to use the artwork provided for t-shirts, mugs, ect. Please ask for permission if you are planning to do so.
- You are not allowed to make money off of the art I create for you. Example: you turn the drawing into a YCH or Trace/reference the drawing for someone else's commission.
- Do not recolor, trace, heavily reference or use my drawings unless stated otherwise. (Commissions may be used, posted, shared as long as I have been given credit.)
- Do not remove my watermarks from the image, you are supplied with different versions of the commission. One with heavy watermarks and one with my personal watermark. DO NOT REMOVE IT .
- If you buy a custom, adopt, or redesign you are not allowed to resell them for more than you bought them without adding art to them first. If you get a free character you are not allowed to trade,sell, or gift them until 2 months after receiving them. You may change characters bought, redesign them, or edit them as long as you do not sell the other design. If you do change the character either throw away the old design or keep it with that character. Password is: (Yes, I understand and agree to the TOS)
- I have the right to decline any commission I see fit. If I am too busy, am uncomfortable with the idea, or can't/don't want to, I don't have to.
- I will not trace other artist's work unless given permission from the artist who created the piece. Even then, I will still change it a bit.
- This list is subject to change as time goes on.

You may read below for more information.

1. Respect & Boundaries

When I speak with a customer I try my best to be respectful, grateful, and kind. I expect the same from anyone getting a commission from me to be the same.

Please do not:

- Continuously complain about waiting, the artwork, or my queue.
- Disrespect me or others during the process

I understand getting some art pieces (especially for couples) can be exciting, but please do not roleplay or talk sexually to me or the other party if I am in the group chat. It makes me very very uncomfortable. Please do not make remarks about pleasuring yourself to any artworks or suggest I would do the same, trust me- I won't, nor do I want to.

Please do not:

- Make suggestive comments about the artwork, me, or the oc as I draw them.
- Do not smut roleplay with the other party while I am in the group chat
- Do not suggest that (me, you, them) will pleasure themselves to the drawing.

I know that it can be awkward talking with someone during the process of a commission or that maybe you would like to be my friend but please respect my boundaries as a person. I don't mind conversations but please keep it relevant. Small talk is a key on communicating with and getting to know those around you but-

Please do not:

- Ask me where I live
- Ask me about super personal things, read the room.
- Ask to see a picture of me or my face.
- Ask me what my real name is, my Fiance's name, families name, ect..
- Send me pictures of yourself (unless you ask first).

Here are a few examples of what is okay:

- "What do you think about X ship? (Oc x OC, Oc x Cannon, Cannon x Cannon, etc)
 - "What do you think about this for my character?" / "I have this idea, would you like to hear it?"
 - "Can you tell me about your character?" "Can I tell you about my character(s)?"
 - Etc...

2. References & Editing

If you have anything you need to change about your design, add to the design, or take away completely, please let me know before I start. I cannot read your mind so if you do not tell me what needs to be changed I don't know how to change it.

- This also includes- If you are sending me an image as a reference be sure that image is correct.
- Please do not send me unfinished artworks for references.

Starting from when I post my updated prices I will refuse service to anyone who supplies me with a sketch or black and white image as a reference unless agreed upon beforehand.

"Why?"

The reason is because if I color pick something from an image that is incorrect it will need to be fixed later on. Or if the image does not have color and you send me a color palette it may not turn out the way you thought it would and it would need to be changed.

Again, if you have any reference images, ideas, or artworks supply them before I begin or tell me and let me know. This is because, if I finish an artwork and it's missing I will have to go in and draw it over the original drawing. I like to flatten my drawings after i'm done and my art program will not allow me to unflatten. This means the new edit will look wrong and not fit into place. Instead of me drawing it with my normal process it would take more time to fix an avoidable mistake.

I understand that sometimes people forget something and will tell me as soon as they remember. That's okay, mistakes happen. My only issue is if it happens again and again and again, either in the same art piece or if you choose to commission me again. Needless to say, it's very annoying.

Rule: There are 2 free edits to a drawing. Any more edits (after the sketch has been approved.) If you still want them changed you will have to pay an edit fee per edit,

Each edit will cost 2$ to fix between 4-6 edits
Anything more is 5$ ea.

Please note, if something in the sketch needs to be changed it's free because i haven't started yet.

3. Permissions & Refunds

Sketch/Idea phase	Full refund
Linework + coloring	Half refund
Completed artwork	No refund

This is because, if i finish the drawing I have already spent my time completing it and therefore completed my job and my half.

Piggybacking off my work is not allowed. This means, if you buy a commission from me you cannot use it to make a base, trace, heavily reference, sell merch of, or make money off that commission in any way. The only time I see this as acceptable is if you are genuinely selling the character to get rid of them.

If you buy a custom, redesign, adopt, or oc from me you are not allowed to sell them for more money without adding to them first. This means, you must buy, create, or supply drawings of that character first. If you buy a character for 50$ and they have one artwork you cannot sell that character and it's one artwork for 80$. Add to it's worth in some way or another before you sell them.

If you get a free character as a prize or gift you are not allowed to sell them at all until you add to the character. If you have to get rid of them it would have to be either a gift, trade, or for free as you did not pay for the character in the first place. If they have other artwork than the free drawing you may sell them based on worth.

If you get a character from me that I created you are not allowed to sell/trade/gift them until 2 months have passed. Please give them a chance, you can always ask me if i can change something to help you like them better.

If you have any questions please let me know.

4. General

I am allowed to decline any commission I see fit. If I am uncomfortable, too busy, or have a full queue I do not have to accept your commission.

I will not trace any other artist's artwork unless I am given permission from that artist to do so. Even then, I will still change something that way its still unique.

This includes other artist's commissions, ychs, or pay to use bases.

Do not remove my watermark! I supply commissioner's with copies of the artwork. One that is heavily watermarked and one with my personal watermark. Under no circumstances are you to remove my personal watermark from my image.
