

Postage Label Debug

The following program is supposed to ask a user for several pieces of data, including their name, address, city, state, and zip code. It is then supposed to print out this information as if it is printing out a shipping label.

However, the program has several errors in it. Can you find and correct them all?

```
using System;
using System.Collections.Generic;
using System.Linq;
using System.Text;

namespace PostageLabel
{
    class Program
    {
        static void Main(string[] args)
        {
            //Greet the user
            Console.WriteLine("thank you for using are postage label progrm.");

            //Blank Line
            Consle.writeine("");

            //Ask user for their name
            Console.WriteLine("What is your name?")

            //Get users name
            String name = Console.ReadLine();

            //Ask user for their street and house number
            Console.WriteLine("What is your house number and street?")

            //Get users street and house number string street = Console.ReadLine();

            //Ask user for their city
            Console.WriteLine("What is your city?")

            //Get users city
            String city = Console.ReadLine("");

            //Ask user for their state
            Console.WriteLine("What is your state?")

            //Get users state
            String state = Console.ReadLine;

            //Ask user for their zip code
            Console("What is your zip code?")

            //Get users zipcode
            string name = Console.ReadLine();

            //Print blank line
            Console.Write("");

            //Print label
            Console.Write(name);
            Console.Write(street);
            Console.Write(city + ", " + state + "" + zipcode);

            //Print blank Line
            Console.Write("");
        }
    }
}
```

Save this Console Application as PostageLabel
