Subject: hartdistrict.org + Google: Welcome!

Months in the making and we're now live on Google Mail, Calendar, and Contacts!

We know it'll take a bit to get used to this big change and we will do our best to assist you and answer your questions.

Please utilize the <http://google.hartdistrict.org> website for helpful learning tools. In combination with learning by using, we're confident you'll be comfortable with the Google interface sooner than you think.

We'll be sending you important information in the coming days, so please take the time to read those messages.

Thank you for your patience and cooperation during this transition and we look forward to all the new ways you will collaborate and share using Google Apps for Education (GAFE)!
