Note: the second adult to arrive has a white, circular identification tag on its right forewing (outer surface). The 2 numbers/letters (?) look like PT or P7 (this is the first time a tagged bird has been observed here) (The tagged bird was reported by me on 7/18/25 – USGS, Bird Banding Lab - Ref ID:485773)

Note: 27 vultures were tagged at Anaheim Lake, Orange County between 2016 and 2021 by The Raptor Research Foundation, Inc. © 2024.

The goal was to assess whether Turkey Vultures continue to be exposed to ARs after the recent bans, which they do. Results of this study indicate that at least three out of 27 Turkey Vultures (or 11%) were exposed to FGARs and SGARs in a large area of southern California.

Twenty of the 27 Turkey Vultures that were tagged and sampled were encountered (a total of 93 sightings) between November 2017 and May 2023. All marked Turkey Vultures remained and foraged within the scope of five different counties (Los Angeles, San Bernardino, Orange, Riverside, and San Diego) in southern California.
