About COINGES

The International Congress of Management Sciences (COINGES) is a space that brings together the management community and integrates the academic and professional world in its different forms of participation, such as master and doctoral presentations, academic papers, posters, workshops, among others. Its main objective is to connect and bring the knowledge generated in research to the practice of organizational management, given its transforming potential.

COINGES, organized by the Academic Department of Management Sciences - PUCP, maintains, in all its editions, a perspective that distinguishes and intertwines different transversal, functional, sectorial and industrial approaches that are part of the field of study of Management Sciences. To this end, it takes into consideration the progress and development of organizations that are closely related to this discipline and the Peruvian and Latin American environment.

About the Academic Department of Management Sciences PUCP

The Academic Department of Management Sciences (DACG) of the Pontificia Universidad Católica del Perú, created on December 19, 2005, brings together the professors of our university who, through their dedication to study, research, teaching and social responsibility, are linked to the field of management sciences. Attached to the Faculty of Management and Senior Management (FGAD), the Department serves all academic units in which activities related to the area of management are carried out.
