

Kylie Readies the Troops for War

When Kylie Jenner returned from her unannounced vacation, she was surprised that in her absence her enemies took advantage of her time away and ruthlessly attacked members of her stable. She immediately put the stable on notice when she named her new bff Stassie Karanikolaou her assistant stable leader. Many of the Barbies, including Dove Cameron, Julianne Hough, Cara Delevingne, and Zendaya Coleman. Stassie immediately went to work and has actually impressed many.

After making Lost Wildcat Sasha Bank submit to her own patented Bank Statement at Open Fight Night 2022, a clearly upset Sasha challenged Kelli Berglund to a Bank Statement contest where once Sasha applied the dangerous hold she held on refusing to release the crippling hold until she nearly broke Kelli's neck.

Kelli escaped serious injury but had to spend the night at a local Hospital and wore a neck brace compromising her training for the Brazil event. Sasha's Stable Leader, Katherine McPhee, approved of her fighters actions saying that Sasha may not have heard Kelli screaming out her surrender or felt Kelli violently tapping on Sasha's legs as she simply refused to let go. In fact it took the referee and 2 Badass Barbies to pull Sasha off leaving Kylie with no other option but to retaliate against her sworn enemy. Kylie challenged the Lost Wildcat leader to a fight of her choice at any location. After a month of not hearing a response. Kylie challenged Katherine to a Bare Knuckle Brawl at Sin City Slugfest IV.

Kylie was left with no other options but to retaliate and she covertly sent 2 of her fighters to repay Sasha for her cowardly act. Paris Berelc and Katherine McNamara broke into the Aries/Wildcat training facility and hunted down Sasha. With the help of former Wildcat Sofia Bush they were able to circumnavigate the security system and wait until they found Sasha. Unfortunately Sasha was accompanied by Chloe Moretz forcing Paris and Kat to sneak attack the two. After a nasty brawl they were able to take out Chloe then double team Sasha knocking her out when Paris stomped her in the face. A letter was left letting the Aries/Wildcats know in no uncertain terms that a Stable War was full on.

Former Badass Barbie Training Squad members Madelaine Petsch, Camila Mendes, and Lili Reinhart showed up at Kylie's Halloween Blowout looking for a fight. The Fierce Fighters played innocent and showed their invitations insisting they were only there to make sure Sofia Richie had finally stopped crying and that Kylie Jenner had managed to pull the wedgie out of her crack. The previous incidents happening at Sin City Slugfest III

Taunts were freely thrown back and forth and both sides nearly came to blows after Lili Reinhart shoved Megan Fox into a fountain. Security escorted the Riverdale Trio out without further incidents but Kylie promised to take revenge and challenges will be made at Sin City Slugfest IV.

The Wannabees have become one of the Barbies biggest rivals as their fighters have met numerous times in Special Events. The feud started when Kelli Berglund, fresh off of filming her season finale of her hit wrestling series Heels decided to show off her newly learned skills and challenged Wannabee Sammi Hanratty to an Oil Wrestling bout. Kelli came in confident and openly boasted on social media but once the fight started it was clear that her holds were useless in the oil and Sammi easily dominated the brash Barbie pinning her for the first fall then embarrassing her by finishing her off with a Banana Split submission.

Kelli, upset by being so easily dominated, challenged Sammi and her teammate Brec Bassinger to a Tag Team Oil Wrestling bout against her and her teammate Paris Berelc. The tightly contested fight ended with Kelli making Brec pass out with a reverse figure 4 neck scissors. The Barbies celebration was short lived as a protest was filed and after review from the Nevada Sports and Gaming Commision the fight was reversed when footage showed that Kelli tapped out to a body scissors a split second before Brec passed out.

Kelli did her best challenging the Wannabees but feeling that they had nothing left to prove they declined letting the Barbies stew. When Open Fight Night 2022 arrived, Kelli immediately challenged Sammi to a cage fight looking to finally get some revenge on her new rival. Sammi accepted under the condition that the loser would have to give up her bra to the winner. The fight did not disappoint and ended up the 2nd highest rated OFN 2022 fight, The intense battle saw the two Featherweights give everything they had in a back and forth fight that went to the judges. After the first Judge had Sammi winning 49-46 Kelli's hopes looked grim but the last 2 saw the fight 48-47 in her favor giving her a win.

The fight for the bra came to a head when Kelli, Paris and Olivia Holt barged into the Wannabee Locker Room demanding their prize. They were confronted by Sammi, Madison Pettis and Madisyn Shipman and after some tense moments Sammi surrendered the bra throwing it in Kelli's face vowing to make them pay if they ever looked for trouble again.

While Sammi and Kelli were done for the moment, other Barbies and Wannabes fought it out at Open Fight Night. Brec Bassinger beat Katherine McNamara when she almost broke her left arm after applying an armbar in a one-sided beatdown.

The Madison vs Madison challenge saw Madison Beer and Madison Iseman from the Barbies take on Wannabees Madisyn Shipman and Madison Pettis in a 4 women tournament to see which stable has the tougher Madison's. In the first fight Madisyn Shipman took the fight to Madison Iseman and ended up breaking 3 of her ribs in a one-sided affair.

Madison Beer easily beat Madison Pettis knocking her out within the 1st minute setting up a showdown between the muscular Beer and Shipman. The 3rd fight ended up in another controversial finish when refere Autumn Resser stopped the contest in the 3rd when she felt that Shipman wasn't defending herself.

Shipman was in trouble but was clearly fighting back and felt that she was winning the fight at the time of the stoppage.

Not wanting to play second to the Wannabes, Kylie instructed 6 of her fighters to crash an event where the Wanabees would be attending. The Barbie started taunting the Wannabes trying to goad them into a fight until a massive catfight broke out in a VIP room. When the hair was swept up, it was the Wannabees who again ended up getting the upper hand. While Kylie's fighters dispute the claims the lucky few who witnessed the brawl would agree that while the Badass Barbie may be better cage fighters, when the rules are thrown out the Wannabees are the better catfighters.

Upon their return, Kylie eagerly greeted her fighters looking for what she was sure would be a decisive victory but again was disappointed as half looked like they were run over and the other half needed medical attention. Only 1 of the 6 fighters sent into the Lingerie Party returned with their Lingerie intact and that was Hunter King from The Hot and Dangerous. The other 5 Barbies were stripped of their one of a kind designer lingerie.

With Sin City Slugfest IV around the corner, Kylie had enough and ordered two of her best boxers to challenge 2 of the Wannabeees. Lightweight Title Holder Dove Cameron challenged Brec Bassinger while Kelli Berglund would again fight Sammi Hanratty. With the head to head score not in favor of the Wannabess 8 to 5, Kylie knew she needed her fighters to not only beat the Wannabes but to put a beating on them.

Barbies in Need of Allies

With the relationship with the talented fighters at Strikeforce still going strong, Kylie still felt that her enemies far outgunned her and she has been searching for allies. Kylie and embattled Stable Leader Tracey Bregman had a few alterations but both decided that the risks of feuding with each other was a battle that neither needed and the two agreed to a joint training agreement.

Tracey proved her leadership abilities despite Sharon Case threatening to take over the stable. The power struggle continues but at the moment Tracey is still the voice of The Hot and Dangerous.

The recent signing of Joey King also helped cement the training arrangement and her big sister Hunter King was the first to start training with the Barbies. Shortly thereafter a rotating training schedule was ironed out and Kylie and Tracey feel that each stable has benefitted.

Kylie is also working on arrangements with other stables in hopes of evening up the odds. In the meantime, The Badass Barbies, Strikesforce and now The Hot and the Dangerous will be fighting side by side against their enemies. The Lost Wildcats, Awesome Aries, Fierce Fighters and The Wannabees are officially put on notice.
