Overall Birth Rate in the United States:

Stinger Two: Depopulation by Murder and Castration

We start with the obvious.

Abortion:

Abortion Statistics-

CDC report 2021 comp 2020

https://www.cdc.gov/reproductivehealth/data_stats/abortion.htm

This is just reported abortions, so it wouldn't include morning after pill abortions and others that are unreported for any reason.

2020 numbers for those who had previously given birth:

https://www.pewresearch.org/wp-content/uploads/2023/01/ft_2023.01.11_abortion_02.png

So abortion isn't just being used when people "aren't ready for kids yet" but to decrease the overall number of kids.

Abortion numbers over the years

Culture of:

Not holding women responsible to motherhood.
Not holding men responsible to fatherhood.

Feminization of Men, and perhaps not Masculinization of Women per se but at least masculinization of roles/expectations

Encouraging young people to wait a long time to get married. “You’re too young. Wait til you’re thirties” “You’ve only dated a year. Date seven.” You need to live together before you’re married! (except let’s look at the statistics on that)

Divorce Rates (published two days ago)

<https://www.forbes.com/advisor/legal/divorce/divorce-statistics/>

Divorce rate is declining, but not faster than the marriage rate:

<https://www.census.gov/library/stories/2023/07/marriage-divorce-rates.html#:~:text=Both%20the%20marriage%20and%20divorce,from%2016.3%20a%20decade%20earlier>.

Rhetoric from Bitter Divorces

You see it a lot online and in real life. Older divorcees urging young people to never get married. Even married people running down their marriages and discouraging young joy.

Divorce/Family Court Injustices

Acknowledge this briefly but move on.

Stinger Four: Depopulation by Birth Control and Infertility

Children ruin your life, and they're the worst rhetoric

Climate change rhetoric/religion of not having children

Workplaces and public spaces/public sentiment hostile to parenthood/children

Birth Control

And what all this leads to is prolonged/indefinite birth control use.

There were studies that suggested maybe COVID itself decreased fertility, at least in the short term, and increased rates of miscarriage and stillbirth. However, I mistrust these studies and their motivations.
