

Personal Statement

Adrian Mayoral

Contact: shadyadrian@gmail.com

Location: 2216 Jefferson 3th Ave, Los Angeles, CA 90018

I was disappointed the first time I Spar in the ring because I thought i was ready, I turned out that I wasn't because I wasn't moving as much but everything else i was good at but my footwork wasn't so good, that's what kept me from doing good. I feel great and energize every time I'm training because I get motivated when I see others trying their best. I want to attend at CS San Diego, Santa Monica College. My Favorite hobbies are going out for a jog to the park, playing video games, boxing, and going out shopping. My achievement right now is that I can throw counter punches faster and harder than I used too when I first started. Something that I am having trouble is my footwork and I need to improve more.

Every practice I Put in a lot of effort even if my trainers are not there checking on me if i ain't slacking off with others, I take my time to learn from my mistakes. Boxing to me means alot to me because I love is but mostly because I enjoy it and helps me take off my stress when ever I had a times it can be very tiring and sometimes I get kind of lazy but I risk it and keep on trying. My name is Adrian Mayoral, I come from Los Angeles, California. I attend at foshay learning center and recently i'm a senior. I am 17 years old and I'm the oldest child out of 3. I am in tech academy what I want to major on is computer science game designing. The reason I choose to do computer science is because I love video games, and to be a game designer could get me to create my own game someday. My goal is to have better communication with people because ever since I was younger I was the shy type and never had anyone to help me improve that skills until now I want to have the skills too and by making that happen is by being confident to myself. Also as my skills of technologies who is thoroughly familiar with database management and system analysis my education in computer and database system, as well my technical skills would enable me to play a valuable role in my career toward the future. As the oldest son in the family I put the examples of my younger siblings for example I try my best to show them what hard work is and everyday is a struggle for anybody not trying the best they can but by they seeing me go through my hard times they realize that not everything is easy in life and everything is earned by putting in effort and work into knowledge or experience of trying their best and lead to success.

I help myself become a better person to make my parents proud and elighted of me. Also to make it to where I want to succeed and have a better future. With my confidence and with my effort I know I can do it through college. With the support of my parents and motivate my brothers to show them they can also do it as well. Also prove to them that anything in life is possible, it just take effort to earn it.