Avatar - Tom, 20, Dropped out of college and is trying to reach financial freedom.

Current Situation - Tom has tried multiple ways to make money and reach his dream situation, which is having a lot of money, but nothing seemed to give him success. He ended up having to work at KFC just to make enough to pay rent. He lives miserably scared that he will end up being homeless. The failures he faced with his previous jobs make him feel like he will never be able to reach the dream life he desires. He is frustrated that all his friends are finding ways to level up and start making good money whereas he just leveled down.

Dream Situation - He dreams of having more money than he can imagine, he wants to never have to worry about money ever again. He can drive his dream sports car and live the luxurious life he sees all these online influencers experiencing. He dreams of creating something that allows him to do whatever he wants, whenever he wants while still earning passive income. This will allow him to feel accomplished and fulfilled in life.

Problem/Roadblock - Tom's issue is that he doesn't have the discipline it takes to reach success. When trying to achieve something as hard as financial freedom, one has to be patient and dedicate most of his time towards achieving that goal, contrary to Tom who only spends a couple of months on each business idea he comes up with.

Solution - To reach financial freedom for Tom in the most efficient way possible, he needs to stick to one plan and keep working on it until he reaches success.

SL - Financial Freedom for Teens: The Quick and Easy Way to Get There

As a teenager, have you heard this before?

Making money is hard and should not be your main goal.

Getting rich is not that important.

If you believe that that is true, then get ready to live a life full of failure and disappointment.

A life where instead of driving supercars and going to high-class clubs...

You'll be checking your bank account every night to make sure you're not broke while you slurp on some cheap sour noodles.

The whole idea of "making money is not important as a teen" is society's way of making you weak and enslaved to the system.

Society doesn't want people to become successful and powerful because it's something they can't control.

So if you don't want to end up being brainwashed and manipulated,

And instead, start making so much money that you can do whatever you please in life...

SL - 7 Figures at 19 (How I did it)

I was so angry at myself, I couldn't believe my very own eyes.

After coming back home from my usual 10-minute nature walk that I have recently implemented into my morning routine,

I took off my shoes and immediately unlocked my phone to check how much I had made that month.

What I saw left me frozen for a second...

I had finally done it....

I had finally achieved my main goal: "100K a month", only from Youtube.

At only 19 years old, I reached a 6 figure monthly salary. I'm now part of only 5% of the population.

But the weird this is...

I was confused, I felt both happy and sad.

I stood there remembering all the miserable times I spent delivering food in the muddy rain and cleaning toilets at an old and smelly bar.

To end up making around 6 figures and barely spending any time on work.

I was putting myself in such miserable positions, not knowing how a little bit of hard work and patience can get you to wherever you want in life.

If you're interested in finding out how I managed to transform my life and become a self-made millionaire.
