A. INTRODUCTION

The introduction consists of a background that contains clear supporting theories, problem formulation, and writing objectives written in one chapter without subtitles. The introduction contains 7 - 15 paragraphs where one paragraph must contain at least 300 words, referring to some literature that becomes the theoretical basis or reason for research. Present the theoretical study with Cambria font size 12pt spacing 1.5. For Arabic manuscripts use traditional Arabic font size 18pt spacing 1.5. The typing of the article uses Microsoft Word software and the article is written in one column, and the paper size is A4 (210 mm x 297 mm) with the following paper boundaries: left and top borders 3 cm, right and bottom borders 2.54 cm.

Please use this template file to facilitate your article. Overall, the body of the Al Muradif article is a minimum of 10 sheets and a maximum of 30 sheets (title-list of references).

The body and weight of the article sections consist of:

- 1. Introduction ( $\pm 15 - 20\%$ )
- 2. Research Methodology ( $\pm 10 - 15\%$ )
- 3. Results and Discussion ( $\pm 40-60\%$ )
- 4. Conclusion and List of References ( $\pm 5 - 10\%$ )

In this section explain the basic part of the article written, which includes a brief description of the background, research problems, research objectives and research benefits which include describing the phenomena of the problems observed, the real conditions obtained which can be supported by several theories. The next part can be presented data or facts that support research and ideas. Then the focus of the problem and the purpose of the research can be presented.

The parts referred to above do not have to be described in the form of separate points. The sharpness of this section is the foundation for reviewers to assess the submitted manuscript.

The introduction contains the background of the problem, the gap between reality and ideal, identification of the causes of the problem, problem limitation, previous research relevant to the research, novelty and research objectives. Supported by relevant theories and recent research on the problem, as well as the new value of research that is an innovation. This section is written as much as  $\pm 15 - 20\%$  of the body of the article.

Writing references in the body of the Al Muradif article uses the Chicago Manual of Style 17th edition (full note) format. It is recommended that references are not direct quotes or do not contain too many direct quotes. If the direct quotation contains 40 words or more, it is written separately from the paragraph and indented one tab from the left side and given quotation marks.

B. RESEARCH METHODOLOGY

The research methodology contains an outline of the research methodology, research design, research approach, research methods, implementation procedures, time and location of research, research instruments, data collection techniques, population and samples, validity and reliability tests of instruments, data analysis methods and data credibility tests. If needed, there is information about the instrument grid. This section is written as much as  $\pm 10-15\%$  of the body of the article.

C. RESULTS AND DISCUSSION

Results

The results describe the main findings of the research. The author compiles, analyzes, evaluates and interprets and compares the latest findings with the findings of existing research. Avoid repetition of sentences from the introduction, methods and results. The number of discussion paragraphs should be longer than the introduction. The consistency of the article from the title to the discussion must be considered. Weaknesses of the research and suggestions for further research development are described in this section.

Discussion

The discussion is described to answer the research results/data comprehensively in accordance with the objectives. The discussion aims to interpret the research results in accordance with theory and previous research results. The discussion is written with 1.5 spaces and bolded. The presentation in the discussion is written systematically using the sub-discussion format of numbers and letters. If there are figures/tables, make sure they contain data/information related to the research objectives. Tables and figures are included in the body of the manuscript. Table and figure titles are numbered and written in Cambria font 12, spacing 1.15. For images, we recommend using a pixel size of 300 for optimal sharpness and image quality (in JPG format).

1. Discussion Subchapter

References used must use primary reference sources such as journals and proceedings as much as 80% and 20% secondary reference sources (books) published in the last 10 years. References are written in the Chicago Manual of Style 17th edition (full note) format. An example of writing can be done like this.

For table/image explanation, you should use Table 1, Table 2, or Figure 1, Figure 2 sequentially. Do not use the phrase “like the table below”. An example of presenting a figure is as follows:

Enter an image that relates to your article in this box. Copy your image and Paste it here.

Notes: You must delete this text before putting the image.

The example of table presentation is as follows:

Tabel 2. Structure of the Curriculum Structure of the Qur'anic Science and Tafsir Study Program

No	Course Group
1.	Mata Kuliah Umum (MKU)
2.	Mata Kuliah Khas Sekolah Tinggi (MKKST)
3.	Mata Kuliah Inti Program Studi (MKIPS)
4.	Mata Kuliah Pilihan Program Studi (MKPPS)
5.	Mata Kuliah Pengembangan Kepribadian dan Keterampilan (MKPKK)

The use of further subchapters in the discussion can be done according to the needs of the discussion. Example:

1. Sub-chapter Discussion 2 (Write down the sub-discussion)

a. Subchapter 2 (Cambria 12)

1). Subchapter 3 (Cambria 12)

a). Subchapter 4 (Cambria 12)

For direct quotations use 1 space:

“To accomplish the mission of spreading the message of the Quran, prospective Islamic teachers need to be equipped with the ability to translate the Qur'an. However, in reality, they face difficulties in understanding the messages of the Qur'an because of their low Arabic language skills. This research aims to find practical steps to improve the competence of prospective Islamic teachers in translating the Qur'an.”<sup>1</sup>

Citations and References

One of the characteristics of a scientific article is that it presents the ideas of others to strengthen and enrich the ideas of the author. These ideas that have been expressed by others are referred to, and the source of the reference is included later in the bibliography. A reference is a mention of the source of an idea written in the text as (1) an acknowledgment to the owner of the idea that the author has “borrowed” rather than plagiarized, and (2) a notification to the reader of who and where the idea was taken from.

Quoting Quranic verses can be done using the Quran In Word application by mentioning the letter and verse first, followed by writing the verse and its translation in italics without including in-notes, or the letter and verse can be kept after the translation. Examples are:

Islamic Shari'ah is universal, applicable to every person, every time and every place. This is in accordance with the words of Allah Swt. in Surah Saba' verse 28:

وَمَا أَرْسَلْنَاكَ إِلَّا كَافَّةً لِّلنَّاسِ بَشِيرًا وَنَذِيرًا وَلَٰكِنَّ أَكْثَرَ النَّاسِ لَا يَعْلَمُونَ

And We have not sent you but to mankind as a bearer of glad tidings and as a warner, but most of mankind do not know.<sup>2</sup>

The citation of the hadith is by mentioning the text of the hadith first, then the translation and the narrator.

وَرَوَى الشَّيْخَانِ عَنِ ابْنِ مَسْعُودٍ قَالَ: سَأَلْتُ النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ؛ أَيُّ الْأَعْمَالِ أَحَبُّ إِلَى اللهِ تَعَالَى؟ قَالَ: الصَّلَاةُ عَلَى وَقْتِهَا، قُلْتُ ثُمَّ أَيُّ؟ قَالَ بِرُّ الْوَالِدَيْنِ، قُلْتُ ثُمَّ أَيُّ؟ قَالَ الْجِهَادُ فِي سَبِيلِ اللهِ.

“And narrated imam Bukhari and Muslim from ibn Mas'ud said: “I asked the Messenger of Allah (SAW), what is the deed that Allah loves the most? He replied: “Prayer (performed) in its time, then I asked again, then what other deeds? He replied: “Doing good to both parents. Then I asked again, then what else, O Messenger? He replied: “Jihad in the way of Allah.” (HR. Bukhari dan Muslim dari ibn Mas'ud).

The presentation of other people's ideas in the article is done indirectly and directly. Ideas that are quoted indirectly generally come from textbooks, journals, papers, articles and websites etc. The quoted writing is summarized or concluded and made in the body of the article and at the end of the paragraph is given a reference with the bodynote system. An example is the following paragraph:

Tatang Hidayat et al. examined efforts to integrate Islamic values into learning have attracted Islamic scholars to discuss and led them to offer their models which are open to testing.<sup>3</sup>

In general, Tashfiyatuna uses a citation and reference writing style based on the Chicago Manual of Style 17th edition (full note). However, with several types of references, it will be detailed as follows:

The method of writing the bodynote is the author's name, period, open parenthesis, year of publication, close, title of the book written in italics, period, city of publication, colon, publisher, period. This bodynote is written in Cambria 12 typeface, Tab 1.5, An example of a textbook footnote is Abdussalam.<sup>4</sup>

The conclusion contains the substance of the meaning of the objectives elaborated with the results and discussion, so that there is a connection / conclusion. The conclusion contains the answer to the formulation of the research problem. The conclusion is the essence of the discussion and should be the answer to the research question in a descriptive form. Conclusions are written individually in subheadings. The conclusion contains answers to the research questions. This section can also be added about the follow-up of the research results in the future. Written in narrative form, not in numerical/numbering form. Suggestions are given on the basis of the research results.
