

ECM Subscriber Commission Request Info

Important! - Keep in mind I am only taking one of these commissions per opening, and it will be my choice selected from those submitted. By filling out the submission form you are not guaranteed a commission.

That said, obviously aside from the subscription fee, you will not pay anything for a commission unless yours is picked. When that happens I will contact you to work out the details.

- Your commission will be discounted by the amount of your subscription, twice that if you've been subscribed for multiple months. It will also be a lesser price if you choose not to have the original piece shipped to you and opt for hi-res digital only (in which case the original will most likely be sold to someone, at some point. You must be okay with this if you choose the digital-only option.)
- In order to encourage variety and to give a broader swath of people a fair chance, I will not select the same submitter two times in a row. If your character/idea is picked, you will not be eligible the next time I open. ...Of course the time after that, you're welcome to submit again!
- Finished art will most likely be posted to my gallery/social media, as well as to subscribestar. I will not do private commissions. You must be okay with this if you wish to commission me. (However I am happy to attribute the commission to "anonymous" if you'd like to remain so.)
- These are single character pieces that will be done in greyscale (graphite)
- I would like to do a commission every two or three months, but It's possible this might occur less frequently. While it may take longer, the important part is I will not take another until I've finished the current one.

How to Submit a commission request:

- Step 1: Be a subscriber and read this doc.
- Step 2: Fill out the submission form (The link will be in the subscribestar post)
- Step 3: Wait. I will contact the person i've picked and post on subscribestar when I've selected a commission and am no longer open (though for privacy's sake I will not name you publicly of course) - If you don't hear from me by this time, it means I've selected someone else's submission, sorry ;_; I wish I could do them all but my skill is not speed-based.

Payment:

- After I pick your commission idea and contact you, we will work out payment. Most likely it will be through paypal, but I am more than willing to use alternate payment methods if something else works better for you!
- The price is as follows:
$425 + shipping for the high-res digital image plus the original drawing.
- OR -
$350 for the high-res digital image alone, with the caveat that the original will most likely be sold to someone at some point.
- These prices will be discounted by the amount of your subscription tier; twice as much if you've been subscribed for multiple months.
- Shipping for originals is an additional $14 within the USA, or $25 if shipped internationally.
- Example: SupersonicHirsuiteWolf lives in Ohio, United States, and has been subscribed to my $25/month tier for three months. Their total price will be $389 for the high-res digital file plus the original, shipped to them. (-50 subscription tier +14 shipping)
- Example: SilkySoftFox lives in a shed in an undisclosed location on the internet and has been subscribed to my $13/month tier for three months. Their total price will be $324 for the high-res digital file only, as they aren't interested in the pencil original and are okay with someone else owning it in the future. (-26 subscription tier, no shipping)

Acceptable Commission Content:

- I'm open to pretty much anything, though since the way these commissions work is "give me a character and give me artistic freedom to draw them," specific content and fetishes are not terribly relevant. I reserve the right to not select a submission for any reason.
- The biggest exception I can think of is characters owned by another person that you don't have permission to commission art of. Please only submit your own character or one from popular media that's well-known enough to qualify as fanart or rule34 - (I'm sure if you're here you probably understand what this means, but if not, please just submit your own original character, thanks!)

Thanks for reading!

I think all the info that's needed is here, but if you have a question, feel free to contact me and ask. I can be reached via subscribestar, or on bluesky or Furaaffinity (username ecmajor)
