

This is a part of what I wrote my sister about Starseeds in 2020.

About a year or so ago I came across the work of a Hypnotist and Past Life regressionist named Dolores Cannon. Dolores died in 2014, but she had written 17 books.

All her books came from hypnotizing various people. Almost everyone who came to her for help (thousands of people) had tons of chaos in their lives. Dolores had created a special method of past life regression where she could start talking with the Higher Selves of these people. All her 17 books came the same way, by talking to the Higher Selves of these people.

What was interesting is she had helped tons of people this way who didnt know each other. But it was almost as if the books were dictated through these various people in sequence. So first she may be getting part of the story from person A in New York. Then she flies to Japan and she gets the 2nd part of the story from person B in Tokyo.

All these people's Higher Selves were talking about the New Earth that is coming. And they said they were here to help in the transition to the New Earth. They didn't know each other. They didn't know what their Higher Selves was saying. They were having problems with their lives. That's why they came for help through hypnosis and regression therapy.

Listen to 5 minutes of this video, this is Dolores talking about the 3 waves of volunteers: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=rMIQi13W0vw>. It's very enlightening.

One of Dolores's books is titled "The 3 Waves of Volunteers And The New Earth". This is the intro on Amazon. Read this, it's interesting.

In 1945 when the atomic bombs were dropped in WWII, our "protectors" and "watchers" in outer space saw that Earth was on a collision course with disaster. The prime directive of non-interference prevented them from taking any action, but then they came up with a brilliant plan to save Earth and assist her in her ascension. They couldn't interfere from the "outside," but maybe they could influence from the "inside." So the call went out for volunteers to come and help. "Earth is in trouble – who wants to volunteer?"

The native souls living on Earth were too caught up on the wheel of karma. The only hope was to ask for pure souls to come who had never been trapped on the karmic cycle.

Dolores in her hypnosis work has discovered three waves of these volunteers. Some have come direct from the "Source" and have never lived in any type of physical body before. Others have lived as space beings on other planets or other dimensions. Because all memory is erased upon entry to the Earth dimension, they do not remember their assignment. Thus these beautiful souls have a difficult time adjusting to our chaotic world. These souls have a vital role to play as they help all of the rest of us ascend to the New Earth.

You can see this book on Amazon. It has 4,746 reviews, all 5 Stars! It's here: https://www.amazon.com/Three-Waves-Volunteers-New-Earth/dp/B098HSPMH5/ref=sr_1_1

I just looked up the characteristics of these Volunteers or Starseeds online. Read this, it's interesting. (Towards the end of this, I talk about the miracles that were happening to me that really awakened me.)

Early on, you were deemed to be a "space cadet." As a kid, people called you out at weird, different, odd - whatever adjective they chose to let you know that you're not like the rest. (Thank God!) - (Thank God is what the author said. I didn't add that.)

You're a wisdom seeker. Always looking to answer those deep questions like "what's the meaning of life?" "Why am I here?" "Why is the word abbreviation so long?" You know those questions that keep you up and make your mind feel like it always has 900 browser tabs open.

You feel like you don't belong here. No matter where 'here' is, you feel like you're always a tourist no matter where you are, but find glimmers of belonging when you encounter like-minded souls who feel the same way.

At times, you can become agoraphobic because going out in the world can be too much in terms of energy, negativity, and disappointment with what we see happening in the world. You will have to force yourself to integrate into society, but always do it on your terms, and along the way, you'll find your community.

You are very intuitive and psychic. Nothing gets by you, and you can spot a phony from a mile away. You've got a way of knowing things that others don't. Sometimes you'll get tagged as a know-it-all or judgemental as you peg a person as a bad seed before they've revealed their real side to the world.

Your empathy can be crippling. You're so empathic that you need to limit your time in crowds or at parties. At a party, you might be the person who seeks out the dog or cat to hang out with because you get each other.

Animals and babies are drawn to you. You find that when there's a baby that seems not to like anyone else at a party, they love you. They know you get it (or at least are on the path to getting it), and because they've recently seen the face of God, they see someone in you that is also connected to the Divine. Animals trust you, and you may find that you're the best damn animal massage therapist that animal has ever met.

You're the epitome of "Mystery Diagnosis." Ever go to the doctor with a complaint and left them confused? They have you take all the tests that they have, and still, they're unable to figure out why you're cold all the time or days of extreme fatigue when you've done nothing to be exhausted over. Maybe it's the random heart palpitations as your heart chakra is rebalancing or the tingling in your hands and feet as your energy continues to align. Memory lapses and headaches happen out of the blue as your crown chakra continues to open. Of course, it should go without saying, see a doctor to make sure you don't have any serious issues going on before you decide you're a Starseed having a Starseed experience.

You're spiritual. Beyond the constraints of religion and orthodoxy, you are eager to learn as much as you can about spirituality and your spiritual path. The path your parents laid out didn't jive with you, so as you become an adult, you've been on a lifelong journey to find out the mysteries of the universe. Which at times has left you with some guilt and shame in regards to learning about that which many would label as outside the lines of traditional religion and inching towards the occult and New Age.

Hidden knowledge + mysteries of the world are your jam. From the Pyramids and the Bermuda Triangle to aliens and ghosts, you're beyond intrigued. It leads you on to ley lines, energy, portals, Atlantis, quantum physics, psychic abilities, astrology, numerology, tarot, and the list goes on. You can't get enough, and you'll never get enough because you have an idea that what's being taught on Earth is a sanitized version of history, and they've got to be hiding something. Right?

Paranormal is normal. You've had an experience with spirits for awhile. Maybe you had these experiences and then shut off your abilities after an experience, or the experiences have never stopped.

If Metaphysics was a topic in high school, you'd been in the Honors class. Once you found metaphysics, or you're new to it, you feel like you've stumbled upon the key you've been looking for in helping you to answer those questions you've been asking all your life. And while I don't think we're ever supposed to uncover all the mysteries of life, you feel like metaphysics makes so much sense that you can't understand when others who don't know a thing about it are quick to dismiss it.

Old Soul in aisle one. People instinctively spill their secrets to you and seek your advice to make them feel better. They may be older than you, but they just know that you'll be able to help. Because you're always seeking the knowledge, you always had some excellent advice to share that can help others when it comes to substantial issues.

Petty bullshit annoys you to no end. People that get upset about the dumbest things in life bother you. They think you're aloof and believe you are better than everyone else. While you shake your head, wondering why they don't seek more profound meaning and invest time in self-improvement. You live beyond the 3D muggle world and find yourself having an aversion to being concerned with the materialistic part of life that so many others are enamored with.

You know you've got a big purpose, but struggle to identify it. I get it; here you are dropped on this planet, become an adult, and know that you're here for more, but what exactly? Discovering what your purpose will require you to lose your ego, tune into God, and forget everything you've been taught here to see your true path.

You're more rock 'n' roll than others. And by that, I don't mean necessarily that you love rock music as much as you genuinely have a hard time with authority, whether it's your boss, the government, society, whoever. You value freedom so much because being enslaved to anything, or anyone goes against what you believe in.

Holistic could be your middle name. You will look for any natural remedy that you can find because you know natural healing isn't a fad. You've seen how alternate healing modalities have improved your life.

Many friends are acquaintances. There are very few that genuinely get you or ever see the whole you. You develop a deep bond with very few here.

You love being of service to others. It's the reason why you're here, after all. Helping others is something you find yourself doing all of the time, even if you know that it may not be in your best interest finding yourself at times being taken advantage of by the takers of this world.

You see repeating numbers. Those repeating numbers, also known as angel numbers, show up when you're beginning to have a spiritual awakening. The more that you pay attention to these numbers, you'll be able to discern what it means for your life. As you take the right steps aligning with your purpose, see these numbers as affirmations or new clues of what to pay attention to.

All the above are true for me. Take the last one as an example.

In 2017 I was having this experience of repeating 22:22 almost daily for about a week which culminated with receiving a receipt with this number at the petrol pump (gas station). I was writing these experiences to Amita almost daily. (I was not aware of all of the above info at that time.)

I want to share a few of these emails with you.

This morning I awoke and my computer lies next to me because I work at odd hours of the night. I had gotten up several times last night also and did some work and spoke to mom and Deepa. Then went to sleep.

When I awoke again, and pressed a key, the computer said in big letters

7:22am 22 march

That was the first thing I noticed when I awoke. 22 22

It is like I was getting a strong message inside 22 22. I had to think about it for a while. What does that mean? And it stayed like what felt like an eternity. The numbers did not change. And I was brought into like almost like a parallel dimension where time doesn't exist.

Then I thought 22 is a power number. I think I remember through numerology there are 2 power numbers, 11 and 22. 22 is supposed to be a master number or something.

It felt really wonderful!

I thought I would share it with you!

I just google searched it. Here's what it says"

This Master Numbers in Numerology is considered to be the most powerful number out of the rest, and thus, Master Number 22 is also called "Master Builder" or the "Master Architect". It holds so much power that it can turn big dreams into reality if worked upon it very sincerely.

Wow! This is giving me goosebumps. What an amazing experience. It is like a message I am getting to stop being in my mind and remain in the magical Now!

Love,

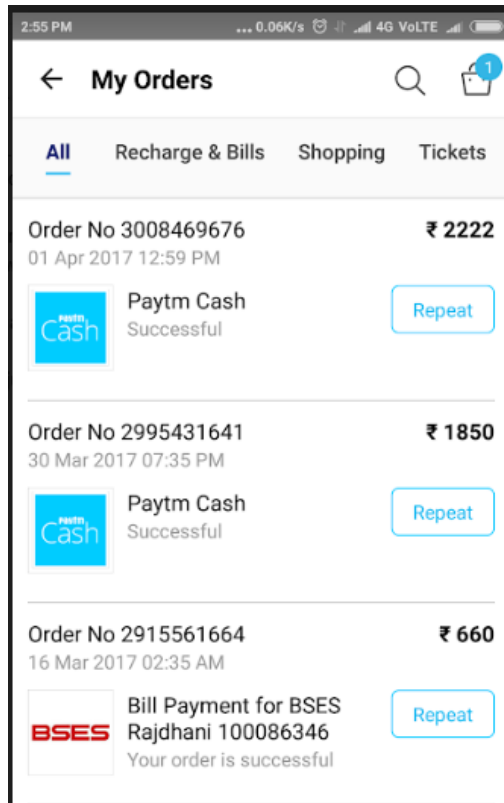

Then I was getting similar experiences almost daily, for an entire week.

Then read this. This is an email I sent you Deepa on April 1st:

Ok now what happened today. See the attachment first.

I had written the 1st email to you. Then I went out to buy some things and stopped to fill gas. The guy filled the gas and I asked him how much? He said something in Hindi. I asked him to tell me how much in English numbers. He said 2 4 times. I said what does that mean. He said 2 2 2 2.

I again felt 22 22. I felt the power of it inside. I spoke to him in Hindi and said that's an interesting number. He said in Hindi that he agrees. He has never seen that before. He shared my sense of wonder about it.

Then I realized again what had happened and I started almost shaking. Like an energy current going down my spine.

The message I felt inside is 'We just wanted to remind you again. Just in case you had any doubts the first time. Get rid of all your doubts.'

Wow! What an experience!

This happened after almost a week of experiences with 22:22. It blew me away and I remember I drove back home shaking at the wheel, almost as if I was struck by lightning.

Dolores had hypnotized and regressed 3 waves of volunteers. She said the 1st wave had it the toughest. They are the oldest now. Around my age. We were almost like the pioneers. We are the ones who have to deal with all the Indians with bows and arrows.

The later waves, wave 2 should be between 45-55 now. They have more psychic abilities and channel incredible info. The 3rd wave are like magical kids. They have it easier I think.

After I wrote this letter to my sister in 2020, I have had amazing experiences to awaken me fully to my Starseed mission and really open up my Heart so I can really serve people. I also found out recently that my daughter who I absolutely adore, she also has an incredible story with these angel numbers. She was born at 1:41 am in Florida in 2003. If you convert that to Indian time, its exactly 11:11 am in India. 11 11 is also a Master number, with incredible power. This also blew me away! 11 11 and 22 22 are considered the 2 Master or most powerful numbers in Numerology.
