

Download or make a copy of this worksheet. Need more help? Contact your subject librarian at <https://libraries.emory.edu/contact/subject-librarian-directory.html>

Exploring Scholarly Conversations

Consider the following questions to help you explore scholarly conversations for your research topic

What is your research topic? What are you interested in exploring?

What interests you about this topic?

Who might be talking about this topic - what sort of scholars or researchers might be focused on this topic?

What do you think people might be saying about your topic? What angles or themes are present?

Where can you go to start finding and exploring these conversations?