

Landing page

The Stressless Chess Curriculum

Has your daughter expressed her desire to get into the world of board games of strategy and tactics? Chess would be right up her alley!

This curriculum is exactly what is needed in the world of chess today which woefully lacks female representation. It is for the girls who want to get into the chess culture and for the parents who want to help their daughters learn the game.

Stressless Chess is a great resource for these girls (and their parents). It teaches them the basics without feeling intimidated by the more advanced techniques. This curriculum was created by the International Grandmaster herself to fit the needs of young females!

Sign up today and receive access to 50 online video lessons and workbooks to go with them!