

Raid Team 3/4 is increasing the ranks to decimate the green dragons!

Who are we?

Raid Team 4 is made up primarily of Flat Azeroth Society guild members who are thankful to now be apart of the Mur family. We have been playing together for many years and over many expansions/iterations of WoW.

What are we about?

We are here to clear content efficiently and make the most of the time we can in raid. I would consider this group semi-casual. We do have people that are looking to parse, and some of our players have achieved some of the top parses out there. However we are not elitist about it by any means. We aren't going to yell at anyone in raid. At the root of us, we are friends looking to get better and have a good time in raid.

Raid expectations

We keep it simple. We want our raiders to know their class and abilities, be able to follow mechanics and directions, and to have a positive attitude. We aren't going to force anyone to have every buff or consume. Some of us will do that to chase higher numbers, but it isn't required and we don't want to force it on anyone. If you ever have a question we want you to not be afraid to ask!

We expect everyone to have dbm and be in voice during raid. This keeps the raid running smoothly and everyone on track. We also expect raiders to be logged on ready to raid before raid time. If someone is going to miss or be late, please let Tytran or Rosco know ahead of time.

Loot Rules

MS>OS will get us through 95% of loot, with the rare tweeks or exceptions along the way. We will make it clear ahead of time if something comes up. We are all here for purple pixels. (edited)

What can you expect from us?

Eternal Glory that will echo throughout Murloc history!

Just as important, a smooth fun raiding atmosphere. Our core group cleared both BFD and Gnomer our first night with only 1 wipe. We want to expand and meet new gamers that are looking to have a good time.

You will never be directly called out, yelled at, or made to feel "lesser". You may have to endure light teasing if you stand in the fire . We can also offer advice and resources if you are looking to improve.

If this sounds like the place for you feel free to signup for one of our runs. We will post using the discord bot.
